

Contents

Editor's Note	vii
Introduction	1
Harold Bloom
Fool's Gold: The Beginning of Balzac's Illusions perdues		5
Lawrence R. Schebr
Systematic Realism	23
William W. Stowe
Victor Marchand: The Narrator as Story Seller
Balzac's "El Verdugo"	39
Janet L. Beizer
Reflections on Balzacian Models of Representation		51
Roland Le Huenen and Paul Perron
Balzac's Illusions Lost and Found	71
D. A. Miller
Epigrams and Ministerial Eloquence: The War of Words in Balzac's La Peau de chagrin		91
David F. Bell
Discourse, Power, and Necessity: Contextualizing Le Cousin Pons	105
Jane A. Nicholson
Eugénie Grandet's Career as Heavenly Exile		121
Alexander Fischler
Cousin Bette : Balzac and the Historiography of Difference		135
Scott McCracken

The Framed Image: The Chain of Metaphors in Balzac's Le Père Goriot Leslie Anne Boldt	151
The Feminine Conspiracy in Balzac's La Cousine Bette James R. McGuire	173
Structures: Organizing a Fictional Universe Martin Kanes	183
The Crisis of Narrative Doubling: Balzac's La Comédie humaine Beatrice Guenther	195
Balzac's Allegories of Energy in La Comédie humaine Christine Raffini	211
Chronology	223
Contributors	227
Bibliography	231
Acknowledgments	235
Index	237