

Notes on the Contributors
Editor's Introduction

vii
xiv

PART A THE INNER NATURE OF LANGUAGE

1. Language as available sound: phonetics 3
M.K.C. MacMahon
2. Language as organised sound: phonology 30
Erik Fudge
3. Language as form and pattern: grammar and its categories 68
D.J. Allerton
4. Language as a mental faculty: Chomsky's progress 112
P.H. Matthews
5. Language, meaning and sense: semantics 139
D.A. Cruse
6. Language, meaning and context: pragmatics 173
Geoffrey Leech and Jenny Thomas
7. Language as a written medium: text 207
János S. Petöfi
8. Language as a spoken medium: conversation and interaction 244
Marion Owen
9. Language universals and language types 281
J.R. Payne

10. Language and mind: psycholinguistics	333
Jean Aitchison
11. Language in the brain: neurolinguistics	371
Ruth Lesser
12. The breakdown of language: language pathology and therapy	422
Paul Fletcher
13. Language and behaviour: anthropological linguistics	458
Edgar G. Polomé
14. Language in society: sociolinguistics	485
James Milroy and Lesley Milroy
15. Second languages: how they are learned and taught	518
David Wilkins
16. Language in education	551
Michael Stubbs
17. Language and literature	590
Ronald Carter
18. Language and computation	611
Christopher S. Butler

PART C SPECIAL ASPECTS OF LANGUAGE

19. Language as words: lexicography	671
A.P. Cowie
20. Language and writing-systems	701
J.D. Mountford
21. Sign language	740
Bencie Woll
22. Language and its students: the history of linguistics	784
Vivien Law
23. Language engineering: special languages	843
Donald C. Laycock and Peter Mühlhäusler
24. Language as it evolves: tracing its forms and families	876
N.E. Collinge
25. Language as geography	917
Martin Durrell
26. Languages of the world: who speaks what	956
Bernard Comrie
Index of topics and technical terms	984
Index of names	993