CONTENTS

Acknowledgments ix
Introduction xi

PART I: DISASTER, TRAUMA, AND RESPECT FOR THE DEAD
Chapter 1 At War With Nature: Coverage of Natural Disaster Fatalities 3
Chapter 2 Death Rites Interrupted: Responsibility and Remembrance in Coverage of the Tri-State Crematory Scandal and Hurricane Katrina 21
Chapter 3 Who Speaks for the Dead? Authority and Authenticity in News Coverage of the Amish School Shootings 41

PART II: LESSONS LEARNED FROM LIFE STORIES
Chapter 4 Life and Death in a Small Town: Cultural Values and Memory in Community Newspaper Obituaries 61
Chapter 5 "It Takes a Sinner to Appreciate the Blinding Glare of Grace": Redeeming the "Dark" Celebrity 77
Chapter 6 "We Can't Keep Losing Our Kids": Fear, Blame, and Mourning in Press Coverage of Teen Deaths 95

PART III: THE JOURNALISM OF RITUAL AND TRIBUTE

Chapter 8  “Portraits of Grief” and Stories That Heal: The Public Funeral for Victims of September 11  129

Chapter 9  Reporting on “A Grieving Army of Americans”: Citizen Testimony in the Misremembering of Ronald Reagan  153

Chapter 10  “All the Fellows That Went on Before Me”: Tribute, Memory, and Counter-Memory Among Veterans of “the Good War”  169

Conclusion  187

Notes  197

References  203

Index  239