

Contents

Characteristics of spoken vernaculars: parsing strategies? The case of German Werner Abraham	1
Language variation and phonological theory: inflected adjectives in Dutch and related languages Geert Booij	35
Perceptual dialectology: aims, methods, findings Dennis R. Preston	57
Parallels in the phonological systems of Southern Dutch and Northern French dialects Georges de Schutter	105
Britain and the Continent – linguistic interrelations Wolfgang Viereck	123
Aspects of Armenian dialectology Joseph J. S. Weitenberg	141
Typology and dialectology: a programmatic sketch Lieselotte Anderwald and Bernd Kortmann	159
The role of prosodic and verbal aspects of speech in the perceived divergence of Dutch and English language varieties Charlotte Gooskens and Renée van Bezooijen	173
Morphologische Reanalysen bei lokalen Adverbien, Präpositionen und Adjektiven im Thüringischen und Ostfränkischen Rüdiger Harnisch	193
Basque accentuation and dialectology José Ignacio Hualde	207

On the (non-)persistence of dialect features in American Dutch (1): general aspects Jaap van Marle and Caroline Smits	231
On the (non-)persistence of dialect features in American Dutch (2): the case of Iowa Dutch Caroline Smits	243
The impact of internal or contact-induced change on weak preterites in -øt in Danish dialects with an outlook to Norway and Sweden Inge Lise Pedersen	269
Meta-constraints and constraint ranking in relation to the representation of nasality and palatality across French dialects Michael D. Picone	283
Probleme bei der Erstellung von Sprachkarten im Untersuchungsgebiet des „Bayerischen Sprachatlas“ am Beispiel von Richtungsadverbien Sibylle Reichel	301
Dialektwandel und Einstellung – Das Beispiel der Aarauer Stadtmundart Dialect change and attitudes Beat Siebenhaar	313
The pronunciation of standard Dutch – An evaluation study Dick Smakman and Renée van Bezooijen	333
On ethnobiological nomenclature in Southern Dutch dialects Jos Swanenberg	353