

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Prefaceix

Note on conventionsxi

Part I Historical Lexicography and the General Dictionary 1

Y John M. Sinclair (Birmingham)
Lexicography as an academic subject 3

Y Herbert E. Wiegand (Heidelberg)
On the structure and contents of a general theory of lexicography 13

=====

Richard Allsopp (Bridgetown, Barbados)
Caribbean English as a challenge to lexicography 31

James Arthurs (Victoria, British Columbia)
Lexicography and linguistic change:
Canada and the World Cup 42

Arthur J. Bronstein (New York)
Updating a Dictionary of American English Pronunciation 51

Louise Dagenais (Montréal)
Two principles in definitions of an Explanatory-Combinatorial Dictionary 58

Fredric Doležal (New Orleans, Louisiana)
The construction of entries in the Alphabetical Dictionary (1668) of John Wilkins and William Lloyd 67

Rudolf Filipovič (Zagreb)
Can a dictionary of -isms be an Etymological Dictionary? 73

Robert Ilson (London)
The communicative significance of some lexicographic conventions 80

Christian J. Kay (Glasgow)
The Historical Thesaurus of English 87

Johan Kerling (Leiden)
Franciscus Junius, 17th-century lexicography and Middle English 92

Barbara A. Kipfer (New York City/Exeter)
Methods of ordering senses within entries 101

Alan Kirkness (Mannheim)
The etymology of Europeanisms, or: lexicographers' difficulties with 'lexicographer' 109

Fritz Neubauer (Bielefeld)
The language of explanation in monolingual dictionaries 117

Gabriele Stein (Hamburg)
Towards a theory of lexicography: principles and/vs.
practice in modern English dictionaries 124

Penelope F. Stock (Birmingham)
Polysemy 131

Janet Whitcut (Harlow, Essex)
Sexism in dictionaries 141

E

L

0

X

C

Po

Part II Bilingual Lexicography and the Pedagogical Dictionary . 145

Ladislav Zgusta (Urbana-Champaign, Illinois)
Translational equivalence in the bilingual dictionary	147
Anthony P. Cowie (Leeds)
EFL dictionaries: past achievements and present needs	155
=====
Ton Broeders & Phil Hyams (Nijmegen)
The pronunciation component of an English-Dutch dictionary .	165
Thomas Creamer (Takoma Park, Maryland)
Recent and forthcoming Chinese-English and English- Chinese dictionaries from the People's Republic of China ...	176
Glyn Hatherall (Ealing, London)
Studying dictionary use: some findings and proposals	183
Timothy Hayward & André Moulin (Liège)
False friends invigorated	190
Nayef N. Kharmā (Kuwait)
Contextualization and the bilingual learner's dictionary ...	199
Hans-Peder Kromann; Theis Riiber; Poul Rosbach (København)
'Active' and 'passive' bilingual dictionaries: the Ščerba concept reconsidered	207
Edwin A. Lovatt (Leeds)
Illustrative examples in a bilingual colloquial dictionary .	216
Tamás Magay (Budapest)
Technical or general: problems of vocabulary selection in a medium-size bilingual dictionary	221
Leocadio Martín (Granada)
Lexical fields and stepwise lexical decomposition in a contrastive English-Spanish verb valency dictionary	226
James S. Mdee (Dar es Salaam)
Constructing an entry in a learner's dictionary of Standard Kiswahili	237
Henry Niedzielski (Hawaii)
Semantic considerations of 'set' and some of its French equivalents	242
Linju Ogasawara (Tokyo)
Problems in improving Japanese English-learners' dictionaries	253
Viggo H. Pedersen (København)
Reflections on the treatment of prepositions in bilingual dictionaries, and suggestions for a statistical approach ...	258
Heikki Särkkä (Joensuu)
Improving the usability of the Finnish comprehension dictionary	268
Mary Snell-Hornby (Zürich)
The bilingual dictionary - help or hindrance?	274
Sandra A. Thompson (Los Angeles)
Bilingual dictionaries and the notion of 'lexical categories' in Chinese	282
Jerzy Tomaszczyk (Łódź)
The culture-bound element in bilingual dictionaries	282

Part III	Computational Lexicography and the Terminological Dictionary	299
Francis E. Knowles (Aston, Birmingham)	Dictionaries and computers	301
Juan C. Sager (Manchester)	Terminology and the technical dictionary	315
=====
Nicoletta Calzolari; Maria L. Ceccotti; Adriana Roventini (Pisa)	Computational tools for an analysis of terminological data in a general dictionary	327
Dawoud H. El-Sayed (Kuwait)	Notes on the Arabization of the terminology of modern linguistics	333
Gert Engel & Bodil N. Madsen (København)	From dictionary to data-base	339
Rosemarie Gläser (Leipzig)	Terminological problems in linguistics, with special reference to neologisms	345
Håvard Hjulstad (Bergen)	Terminology work in Norway and the Norwegian Term Bank	352
Sven Jacobson (Stockholm)	Three types of terminologies	355
Anthony A. Lyne (Sheffield)	On rooting out words with inflated frequencies in word-counts of specialized registers	362
Jim Mathias (Kensington, Maryland)	Computer-aided processing of Chinese lexicographic materials	371
Reuven Merkin (Jerusalem)	Historical dictionaries and the computer - another view	377
Archibal Michiels & Jacques Noël (Liège)	The pro's and con's of a controlled defining vocabulary in a learner's dictionary	385
Jeanette Pugh (Manchester)	Contrastive conceptual analysis of noun compound terms in English, French and Spanish within a restricted, specialized domain	395
Fred W. Riggs (Hawaii)	Lexicographical terminology: some observations	401
Abondio Sciarone (Delft)	The organization of the bilingual dictionary	413
Henk Siliakus (Adelaide)	To list, or not to list? Computer-aided word lists for the humanities and social sciences	420
Wolfgang Teubert (Mannheim)	Setting up a lexicographical data-base for German	425
Otto Vollnhals (München)	Utilization of a commercial linguistic data-base system for el- ectronic storage and automated production of dictionaries ..	430
Jonathan J. Webster (Singapore)	The PROLEX project	435
	Bibliography of cited dictionaries	441
	List of authors' affiliations	450