Part I Planning the Research Project	1
1 Introduction	3
1.1 What is the Nature of Fundamental Organizational Research?	3
1.2 What Distinguishes Fundamental Organizational Research from Applied Organizational Research?	3
1.3 Methodological Requirements and Rules of Fundamental Research in General	5
1.4 Clients	8
1.5 Other Parties Involved in the Research Project	10
1.6 Overview of the Steps in the Research Process	11
2 Problem Orientation	13
2.1 Introduction	13
2.2 Establishing the Aim of the Research	14
2.3 Formulating the Research Question	16
2.4 Sub-questions	19
2.5 The Empirical Cycle	20
3 Literature Research	25
3.1 Introduction	25
3.2 Types of Literature	26
3.3 Literature Search	27
3.4 Processing the Literature	32
3.5 References to Literature	33

4	Research Design and Planning	36
4.1	Introduction	36
4.2	Research Model and Variables	38
4.3	Hypotheses	41
4.4	Operationalizing	45
4.5	Measurement Levels	47
4.6	Reliability and Validity	50
4.7	Population and Sampling	59
4.8	Behavioural Rules	67
4.9	Research Proposal	69
5	Research Strategies	71
5.1	Introduction	71
5.2	Classification Principles	72
5.3	Main Types of Research Strategies	75
5.4	Causality	89
Part II	Conducting the Research Project	93
6	Data Collection Methods	95
6.1	Introduction	95
6.2	Archiving Data	96
6.3	Observation	99
6.4	Interviews	102
6.5	Questionnaire	106
6.6	Multi-method	108
7	Questionnaires and Interviews	110
7.1	Introduction	110
7.2	Questionnaires – General Remarks	111
7.3	Structure of the Questionnaire	121

7.4	Interviews – General Remarks	124
7.5	Pilot Study/Pre-testing	131
7.6	Making Contact	132
7.7	Anonymity and Confidentiality	136
8	Data Analysis	137
8.1	Introduction	137
8.2	The Codebook	138
8.3	Computer Use	139
8.4	Data Matrix	140
8.5	Missing Values	144
8.6	Overview of Statistical Techniques	146
8.7	Statistical Significance of the Results	177
Part III	Reporting the Research Project	183
9	The Research Report	185
9.1	Introduction	185
9.2	Planning	186
9.3	Target Group	187
9.4	Structure of the Research Report	188
9.5	Writing Style and Layout of the Report	201
10	Presentation	205
10.1	Introduction	205
10.2	Preparing the Presentation	206
10.3	Structure of the Presentation	208
10.4	The Presentation: Some Rules of Thumb	209
10.5	Tools	210
10.6	The Audience	213

11 Case Study – The Transpost Case	214
11.1 Introduction	214
11.2 Problem Orientation	217
11.3 Research Model and Variables	218
11.4 Research Strategy	221
11.5 Collecting Existing Data	224
11.6 Practical Implementation	228
11.7 Data Analysis	232
11.8 Reporting	241
11.9 Presentation	242
Further Reading	245
Appendix: Checklist for Evaluating Research Reports	247
