

CONTENTS

Prefatory note	page ix
INTRODUCTION	I
I THE FRAMEWORK OF ENLIGHTENMENT SEMIOTICS:
CHRISTIAN WOLFF	9
The structure of representation	9
The themes of Wolff's semiotics	17
The arbitrary signs of language	17
Classification of signs: natural signs	24
Sign-use and distinct cognition	30
The place of the sign in Enlightenment culture	35
2 SEMIOTICS AND AESTHETICS IN THE WORK OF
BAUMGARTEN, MEIER AND MENDELSSOHN	43
Introduction	43
The theory of aesthetic representation	49
A formula for beauty	54
The aesthetic as sensate intuition	59
Aesthetic semiotics	68
The semiotics of poetry	73
Comparative semiotics of the arts	84
3 LESSING'S 'LAOCOON'	99
Preface	99
A global model of aesthetic signification	109
Method	109
The plane of expression	114
Material of expression	114
Form of expression: the plastic arts	123
Form of expression: poetry	128
Summary	133
Content plane	135

CONTENTS

	page
Introduction	135
Material of content	137
Content form: semiotic rules of selection	147
Selection and imaginative freedom	156
→ Aesthetic rules of selection in the plastic arts	161
→ Aesthetic rules of selection in poetry	170
The poetic rule of content arrangement	183
Summary	189
Poetry as natural sign	191
Chapter sixteen and the notion of natural sign	191
Lessing and Breitingger. Description and narration	203
CONCLUDING REMARKS: ENLIGHTENMENT AESTHETICS FROM THE STANDPOINT OF TODAY	 228
Notes	248
Index	