

Table of contents

Gabriella Mazzon Introduction	7
Hans-Jürgen Diller From mōd to emotion (or almost): the medieval gestation of a modern concept	13
Dieter Kastovsky Middle English word-formation: a list of desiderata	41
Laura Wright On some Middle English Colour Terms, including pink	57
Barbara Bianchi Towards an electronic LALME : Scandinavian and French influence in some late Middle English texts from Cheshire	73
María José Carrillo-Linares – Eburne Garrido-Anes Middle English Lexical Distributions: Two Instances From The Lay Folks' Catechism	85
Gabriella Del Lungo Camiciotti A pragma-linguistic approach to medieval narrative: the case of saints' lives	101
Julia Fernández Cuesta – Nieves Rodríguez Ledesma From Old Northumbrian to Northern Middle English: Bridging the divide	117
Nils-Lennart Johannesson On Orm's relationship to his Latin sources	133
Cynthia Lloyd From denominal to deverbal: the suffix -age in Middle English	145
María José López-Couso Frequency effects: Middle English nis as a case in point	165
Roderick W. McConchie Discomfort in Middle English	179
Belén Méndez Naya He nas nat right fat : On the origin and development of intensifier right	191

Lilo Moessner	209
The Mandative Subjunctive in Middle English
Tibor Órsi	227
The Use of Synonyms in the English Version of Mandeville's Travels
Letizia Vezzosi	239
Himself: an overview of its use in Middle English
Jerzy Wełna	257
The loss of the liquid [l] in Early English, or what Luick and Jordan did not say
Anna Wojtyś	269
Middle English prefixal past participle marking in the Midlands
Index	289