

TABLE OF CONTENTS

| | |
|--|-----------|
| Introduction | 9 |
| 1 Gender, Subversion and Subculture – a Theoretical Overview | 17 |
| 1.1 Conceptualising Gender | |
| 1.1.1 Gender as Performative | |
| 1.1.2 Gender as a Contested Discourse and the Productive Role of Representation | 20 |
| 1.2 Sites of Subversion | 22 |
| 1.2.1 The Subversive Potential of Cross-dressing and 'Queer' Identities | |
| 1.2.2 Gender Subversion through Style Practices? | 26 |
| 1.3 Conceptualising Subculture | 31 |
| 1.3.1 Subculture as Subjective Identification | 32 |
| 1.3.2 Subcultural Ideology and Subcultural Capital | 34 |
| 1.4 Subcultures and Masculinity | 37 |
| 1.4.1 A Tough Boys' World – the Construction of Masculinity on the Subcultural Turf | 38 |
| 1.4.2 Masculinism for Girls – Male-defined Standards and Female Presence | 42 |
| 1.5 Subcultures and Femininity | 45 |
| 1.5.1 From 'Teenie-bopper' to 'Ladette' – the Status of Girls within Youth Culture | |
| 1.5.2 Girls Strike back – Femininity as a Subcultural Value and Female Subjectivity as Rebellion | 48 |
| 1.5.3 Reality Check – Female Subcultural Capital and Other Complications | 54 |
| 2 Methodology | 59 |
| 2.1 Interpreting Subcultural Practices: Socio-symbolic Analysis | |
| 2.2 Sampling Decisions and Other Practical Considerations | 64 |
| 2.2.1 Selection of Interviewees, Magazines and Internet Sites | |
| 2.2.2 Interview and Observation Practices | 67 |
| 2.2.3 Handling Quotations and Writing up the Analysis | 70 |
| 2.3 Analysing Interviews and Media Texts: Subjectivity and Discourse | 75 |
| 3 Setting the Scene – the Gothic Subculture in Britain and Germany | 79 |
| 3.1 A Brief History of Goth, and its Current State in Britain and Germany | |
| 3.2 Goth in a Nutshell – Lifestyles, Values, Practices | 86 |
| 3.2.1 Lifestyles and Attitudes | |
| 3.2.2 Gothic Values | 89 |
| 3.2.3 Gothic Practices | 90 |
| 3.3 A Sense of Place – the Four Different Regions of My Research | 93 |

| | |
|---|------------|
| 4 Gendered Goth Styles and Subcultural Capital | 97 |
| 4.1 Subcultural Rhetoric and the Ideology of Genderlessness | 98 |
| 4.2 Gendered Ideals of Beauty: Male Androgyny and Female Hyperfemininity | 100 |
| 4.3 The Gendered Currency of Subcultural Capital: Female Attractiveness versus Male Rebellion | 106 |
| 4.3.1 Female Goth Style (Hyperfemininity): 'Mainstream' Compatibility and Co-optation | 109 |
| 4.3.2 Male Goth Style (Androgyny): Transgression, Courage, Subcultural Capital | 113 |
| 5 Subjective Functions of Female Gothic Style | 121 |
| 5.1 Hyperfemininity as 'Masquerade' and Empowerment | 122 |
| 5.2 Alternative Feminine Identities for Women from Marginalised Groups | 129 |
| 5.3 The Empowering Potential of Androgyny | 133 |
| 6 Androgyny versus Affirmation of Masculinity in Male Gothic Style | 141 |
| 6.1 Liberating Functions of Androgyny and Critique of Traditional Masculinity | 142 |
| 6.2 Affirmation of Masculinity despite/through Androgynous Style | 149 |
| 6.3 Negotiating the Appropriate Boundaries of Male Androgyny | 155 |
| 6.4 Male Androgyny versus Masculinity in Gothic Style: the UK and Germany | 164 |
| 7 Gender Relations in the Gothic Subculture | 171 |
| 7.1 The Gothic Scene as a Heterosexually Gendered Space | 172 |
| 7.2 Gendered Status Criteria in the Gothic Scene | 179 |
| 7.2.1 Age, Status and Heterosexual Relationships | 180 |
| 7.2.2 Male versus Female Status Criteria | 184 |
| 7.2.3 Physical Attractiveness as a Gendered Source of Courtship-related Capital | 187 |
| 7.3 Traditional Gender Roles and Progressive Renegotiations | 195 |
| 8 Gender and Sexualities in the Gothic Subculture | 203 |
| 8.1 Acceptance and Openness toward Nonconventional Sexualities | 205 |
| 8.2 'Normative Bisexuality' and the Myth of Genderlessness | 208 |
| 8.2.1 A 'genderless' Bisexual Utopia? | |
| 8.2.2 Bisexuality as a Normative Standard | 214 |
| 8.3 Bisexuality and Female Subcultural Capital | 218 |
| 8.4 The Conflicted Status of Male Homoeroticism in Goth | 224 |
| 9 Gendered Representations in Goth Music and Media | 235 |
| 9.1 The Sonic and Textual Construction of Gender in Goth Music Media | 238 |
| 9.1.1 'Seductive Divas' and 'Tough Guys' | 239 |
| 9.1.2 Stretching the Boundaries – Progressive Gender Role Negotiations | 249 |
| 9.2 The Visual Construction of Gender in Goth Music Media | 256 |
| 9.2.1 Woman as 'Eye Candy' and Sex Object | 257 |
| 9.2.2 Goth at the Intersection of Competing Value Discourses | 265 |
| 9.2.3 Sex Sells – the 'Commercial' Discourse in German Goth Media | 272 |
| Conclusion | 281 |
| Bibliography | 297 |