

Contents

Illustrations	4
Foreword	5
Preface	7
Introduction	9
Part one THE HISTORICAL PERSPECTIVE
1 Origins	15
2 Survival and revival	31
3 A new movement	49
4 Poetry and the private press	67
5 A living tradition	79
Part two EIGHT CONTEMPORARY PRESSES
Preliminary note	95
6 The Cuckoo Hill Press	97
7 The Shoestring Press	100
8 The Keepsake Press	105
9 The Kit-Cat Press	108
10 Poet & Printer	113
11 The Plough Press	116
12 The Mandeville Press	119
13 The Basilisk Press and Bookshop	124
Part Three A MARKET AND ITS PROSPECTS
14 Reaching the customer	127
Bibliography	133
Appendix	144
Index	164

Illustrations

Frontispiece. Gettysburg . A broadsheet from Rampant Lions Press. Reproduced with the permission of Will Carter.
The Kelmscott Chaucer from the Basilisk Press. Reproduced with the permission of Charlene Garry.	25
Opening from On printing by hand . Reproduced with the permission of David Chambers.	40 41
Title page from Anaglyptography . Reproduced with the permission of Geoffrey Wakeman.	58
Opening from Cornish Aerie . Reproduced with the permission of Toni Savage, Richard Gilbertson and Rigby Graham.	76 77
Opening from New Beginnings . Reproduced with the permission of Alan Tarling and Eric Walter White.	84 85
Title page opening from Dick and Sal at Canterbury Fair . Reproduced with the permission of Ben Sands.	102 103
Opening from Damon the mower . Reproduced with the permission of Kenneth Hardacre.	110 111
Title page from John Paas &amp; James Cook . Reproduced with the permission of Geoffrey Wakeman.	118
Opening from Water Lane . Reproduced with the permission of Peter Scupham.	122 123
Title page from The Other Planet . Reproduced with the permission of Roy Lewis.	132