

Contents

Frontispiece: Edward Sapir, around 1938	6
Note to the Reader	7
Foreword, by Philip Sapir	11
Chronological list of Sapir's writings contained in volume I	15
Preface	17
INTRODUCTION: Sapir's Life and Work: Two appraisals
Introductory Note, by Philip Sapir and Pierre Swiggers	21
Introduction to Zellig Harris's text, by Pierre Swiggers	23
<Sapir's approach to language>, by Zellig S. Harris	26
Introduction to Stanley Newman's text, by Pierre Swiggers	47
<Edward Sapir's work and style>, by Stanley Newman	49
SECTION ONE: THE PROBLEM OF THE ORIGIN OF LANGUAGE (1907)
Introduction to Sapir's "Herder's "Ursprung der Sprache"" (1907), by Pierre Swiggers	57
Herder's "Ursprung der Sprache" (1907)	65
SECTION TWO: HISTORY, VARIETY AND SETTING OF LANGUAGE (1911, 1912)
Introduction: History, Variety and Setting of Language, by Pierre Swiggers ..	103
The History and Varieties of Human Speech (1911)	111
Language and Environment (1912)	135
SECTION THREE: THEORETICAL, DESCRIPTIVE AND HISTORICAL LINGUISTICS (1923–1929)
Introduction: Theoretical, Descriptive and Historical Linguistics, 1923–1929, by Pierre Swiggers	153
An Approach to Symbolism (review of C.K. Ogden and I.A. Richards, The Meaning of Meaning) (1923)	163
The Grammarian and his Language (1924)	167
Review of A. Meillet and M. Cohen (eds.), Les langues du monde (1925) ..	177
Sound Patterns in Language (1925)	179
Philology (1926)	195
Review of O. Jespersen, Mankind, Nation and Individual from a Linguistic Point of View (1926)	203
Language as a Form of Human Behavior (1927)	204
Review of R.G. Kent, Language and Philology (1928)	217
The Status of Linguistics as a Science (1929)	219
A Study in Phonetic Symbolism (1929)	227

SECTION FOUR: THE PROBLEM OF AN INTERNATIONAL AUXILIARY LANGUAGE (1925–1933)

Introduction: The Problem of an International Auxiliary Language, by Pierre Swiggers	245
Memorandum on the Problem of an International Auxiliary Language (1925)	251
The Function of an International Auxiliary Language (1931)	264
Wanted: a World Language (1931)	276
The Case for a Constructed International Language (1933)	284
Annex: The Statement of the International Auxiliary Language Association made at the second International Conference of Linguists (Geneva, 1931)	287

SECTION FIVE: STUDIES IN UNIVERSAL CONCEPTUAL GRAMMAR (1930, 1932, 1944)

Introductory Note: Sapir's Studies in Universal Conceptual Grammar, by Pierre Swiggers	291
Introduction to Sapir's texts "Totality", "Grading", and "The Expression of the Ending-Point Relation", by Sir John Lyons	294
Totality (1930)	300
The Expression of the Ending-Point Relation in English, French, and German (1932)	326
Grading, a Study in Semantics (1944)	447

SECTION SIX: PATTERNS OF LANGUAGE IN RELATION TO HISTORY AND SOCIETY (1931–1933–[1947])

Introduction: Sapir's General Linguistics in the 1930s, by Pierre Swiggers . . .	473
The Concept of Phonetic Law as Tested in Primitive Languages by Leonard Bloomfield (1931)	484
Communication (1931)	494
Conceptual Categories in Primitive Languages (1931)	498
Dialect (1931)	499
Language (1933)	503
La réalité psychologique des phonèmes (1933)	518
Corrections to the French version published in 1933.	538
The Psychological Reality of Phonemes (1933/1949)	539
Editorial notes on the English version published in 1949	554
The Relation of American Indian Linguistics to General Linguistics (1947) .	556

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS	561
----------------------------	-----

INDICES

Index of Personal Names	563
Index of Concepts	568
Index of Languages	578