

CONTENTS

Foreword, by William Labov	vii
Acknowledgments	xiii
Phonetic Symbols	xv
1. Charleston: A Historical Overview	1
2. The Traditional Dialect	9
2.1. The Traditional Dialect	9
2.2. The Speech of William McTeer as an Illustration of the Traditional Dialect	13
2.3. The Traditional Dialect and the Southern Shift	25
3. Methods	27
4. Retreat of the Traditional Features	46
4.1. Retreat of the Traditional Features	46
4.2. The Traditional Dialect and Gullah	73
5. Postvocalic /r/ in Charleston	79
6. Nearly Completed Mergers	85
6.1. Merger of /ohr/ and /ɔhr/	85
6.2. Merger of /iw/ and /uw/	91
6.3. Merger of merry and Mary	98
6.4. Merger of /ihr/ and /ehr/	103
7. Mergers in Progress	124
7.1. The Low-Back Merger	124
7.2. The PIN-PEN Merger	132
7.3. Merger of merry and marry	141
8. Charleston and the Southern Shift	149
8.1. /ay/-Monophthongization	149
8.2. The Southern Shift beyond /ay/-Monophthongization	159
9. The Fronting of Back Upgliding Vowels	171
9.1. The Fronting of /uw/	171
9.2. The Fronting of /ow/	183

10. The Development of Nasal Systems for /æ/ and /aw/	204
10.1. Development of a Nasal System for Short- a	204
10.2. Development of a Nasal System for /aw/	220
11. Charleston and Its People	226
12. Conclusions	242
Appendix: Charleston Word List	257
Notes	259
References	263