

Contents

Acknowledgments	vii
Introduction	1
Chapter 1: The Narrator as Angel	13
"Wir Engel" 14 — The Narrator's Use of First-Person Plural Pronouns 16 — Angels in the Joseph Novels 21 — Angels and Narration 36
Chapter 2: Narrative Coverings	41
The "Ketōnet passtm" and Other Telling Garments 46 — Narrative as Veil 49 — The "I" Behind the "We" 51 — Rhetorical Masks 52 — The Narrator and the Supernatural 62 — Preserving the Appearances 68
Chapter 3: The Figure Beneath the Fabric	71
God As the Author Behind the Story 75 — Joseph's Role in God's Storytelling 81 — The Reader's and Author's Roles in Narrative 87 — Self-Deception and the Preservation of Authority 90
Chapter 4: Stories of the Self	95
Epistemological Veils 97 — Narrative and Self-Knowledge 102 — Narrative Indeterminacy, Self-Determination 109 — Sustaining Ambiguity 119
Notes	125
Bibliography	141