

Contents

Acknowledgments	i
Contributors	iii
Introduction	v
The Psychology of Mathematical Problem Solving, Richard E. Mayer	1
Knowledge Organization and Mathematical Problem Solving, Edward A. Silver	14
Some Thoughts on Problem-solving Research and Mathematics Education, Alan H. Schoenfeld	25
Implications from Information-processing Psychology for Research on Mathematics Learning and Problem Solving, Diane J. Briars	36
Building Bridges Between Psychological and Mathematics Education Research on Problem Solving, Frank K. Lester, Jr.	51
The Measure of Problem-solving Outcomes, Gerald A. Goldin	82
Some Issues in Problem-solving Research in Mathematics Education, Harold L. Schoen	97
A Model for Elementary Teacher Training in Problem Solving, John F. LeBlanc	104
Applied Problem Solving: Priorities for Mathematics Education Research, Richard Lesh and Margaret Akerstrom	110
Problem-solving Research: A Concept Learning Perspective, Richard J. Shumway	123