

Preface 9

I Art and Conquest 13

The Spanish and the Aztecs 16

Tenochtitlan: Pyramids, Codices, and Monumental Sculpture 16
Churches and Altarpieces 20

The Northern Territories of New Spain 22

The Pueblo Cultures 23

The Christianization of the Pueblos 27

Texas and Arizona in the 17th and 18th Centuries 33

Battles Scenes on Hide: Segesser I and II 36

The Californian Missions 38

France Bringing the Faith: the Northeast 41

*Material Exchange: The Impact of Trade on Native
American Life* 41

Religious Instruction and Cultural Exchange: The Jesuits and the Ursulines 44

The Influence of Fashion: Painted Caribou-Skin Coats 47

The Exploration of the Mississippi and Mississippian
Culture 49

*Monuments to Death: Burial Mounds and Effigy
Funeral Vessels* 49

Monuments to Life: Cahokia and the Grand Village of the Natchez 50

Native America in Europe: The Comte d'Artois' Cabinet of Natural History 52

A Protestant Presence in America 54

*Picturing the "New World": Jacques Le Moyne de Morgues,
John White, and Theodore de Bry* 54

Early Settlements: Jamestown and Plymouth 56

Contents

The Art and Architecture of the Northern British and Dutch Colonies 58

Art, Religion, and Politics in 17th-Century England 58

Displays of Status: Portraiture and Domestic Spaces in New England 59

The Dutch Influence in Architecture and Portraits 62

Aristocratic Pretensions in the South 64

Products of the Needle and the Chisel 66

Learning Their Stitches and Keeping Warm: Colonial Needlework 66

Doors to Eternal Peace: Carved Gravestones 68

Foreign Wars and Domestic Unrest 69

Benjamin West's "The Death of General Wolfe"

and "William Penn's Treaty with the Indians" 69

2 Defining America 73

Representing the Revolution and Its Aftermath 74

Domestic Production and International Intrigue:

John Singleton Copley's "Governor and Mrs Thomas Mifflin" and "Watson and the Shark" 74

John Trumbull's Canvases of War 78

The Aspirations of Women: Postrevolutionary Samplers 82

Presidential Poses: Images of George Washington 83

Portraits from Life: Painting and Sculpture 83

Posthumous Portraits: The Mourning Picture 87

From Painting to Print to Embroidery: The History of an Image 90

Architectural Symbols of a New Nation 93

Home for a President: Thomas Jefferson's Monticello 93

Constructing a Capital: Washington, D.C. 94

The Louisiana Purchase: New Orleans and Plantation Architecture 96

An Architecture of Discipline 98

*Religious Discipline: The Designing of Shaker
Communities* 98

Secular Discipline: The Designing of Prisons 101

Nationhood and Native Americans 104

Native Americans and the Decoration of the Capitol Building 104

From Indian Queen to Greek Goddess 106

Narratives of Captivity 108

Portraits and Treaties 109

The Schooling of the Nation's Artists: Samuel F. B. Morse and the National Academy of Design 112

The Entrepreneurial Spirit and the Production of American Culture 118

Rufus Porter and the "Valuable and Curious Arts" 118

A Plain Likeness: Itinerant Portrait Painters 123

A "Scientific" Likeness: The Daguerreotype 128

3 Nature and Nation 129

Nature and the Sacred in Native American Art 131

Imagery of Creation and the Vision Quest 131

*The Box that Speaks: The Integration of Form,
Content, and Material* 132

God, Nature, and the Rise of Landscape Painting 134

God's Nature as God in Nature 134

Landscape Tourism 135

Images of Niagara Falls 136

Thomas Cole, Federalism, and The Course of Empire 139

Successors to Cole 141

Edward Hicks and The Peaceable Kingdom 144

Landscape Painting at Mid-Century: Frederic Edwin Church and the Luminists 146

Frederic Edwin Church: From the Pastoral to the Sublime 146

Still and Troubled Waters: Luminist Landscapes 150

Native Americans as Nature 152

Thrilling Spectacles of Westward Expansion:

Albert Bierstadt's "The Rocky Mountains" 152

Native Borders: Emanuel Leutze's "Westward the Course of Empire" 153

Depicting the “Looks and Modes” of Native American Life 155

George Catlin and His Indian Gallery 155

Photographic Portraits: Another Take on the Real 162

Nature Transformed: Settling the Landscape 163

The Iconography of Progress: The City and the Train 163

Human Actors in the Landscape: Genre Paintings of the Yeoman Farmer 166

Human Actors in the Landscape: Genre Paintings of the Westerner 168

Woman as Nature: The Nude, the Mother, and the Cook 171

Nature Morte: Still Life and the Art of Deception 175

The Fruits of Art: The Peale Family and Still-Life Painting 175

Tricking the Eye: Raphaelle Peale and the Art of Deception 177

Gender and the Art of Flower Painting 179

*Ornithological Paintings as “Nature Morte”:
Alexander Wilson and John James Audubon* 181

4 A Nation at War 185

The War between the United States and Mexico 186

*Learning from the Past: Emanuel Leutze’s
“The Storming of the Teocalli”* 186

Life on the Home Front 188

Life on the Front Lines 190

Mexican Culture as American Culture 191

The “Santeros” of New Mexico 191

The Local and the International: New Mexican Furniture and Textiles 194

Prelude to the Civil War: Representing African Americans and Slavery 197

The Abolitionist Movement and the Challenging of Stereotypes 199

Race and the Civil War 204

Paintings of Fugitives, Contraband, and Soldiers 204

Photographs of the War 209

Images of Reconstruction 211

Winslow Homer’s “Prisoners from the Front” and “A Visit from the Old Mistress” 211

Thomas Nast’s “Grand Historical Paintings” 215

Monuments to Freedom 217

The Freed Slave 217

The Victorious Soldier 220

Native Americans in the Popular Press: Harper's Weekly and the Washita River Massacre 224

Encyclopedias of Experience: Native American Ledger Art 226

The Art of Incarceration: The Fort Marion Ledger Drawings 226

The Battle of the Little Bighorn 230

The End of the Ghost Dance 232

Symbols of the Ghost Dance in Ceremony and Dress 232

The Hampton Institute and Lessons in American History 236

5 Work and Art Redefined 239

One Hundred Years of Independence:

Taking Stock of America at the 1876 Philadelphia Centennial Exhibition 242

Images of Workers 245

Factory and Foundry: Winslow Homer and Thomas Anshutz 245

Labor Unrest: Robert Koehler's "Strike" and Monuments to Justice and Liberty 248

Celebrating the New Male Professionals:

Portraits by Thomas Eakins 252

The Female Body and the Rights of Women: the

"Declaration of Sentiments" and Hiram Powers's The Greek Slave 258

Domestic Culture and Cultural Production 260

"Cheap and Popular Pictures" for the Home 260

Helpful Women: The Evolving Image of the Domestic Servant 263

Revivalism in Architecture and Interior Design 267

The Feminine Ideal and the Rise of

Aestheticism 269

Images of the Particular:

Portraiture and "Trompe l'Oeil" Painting 275

Portraiture in the Late 19th Century 275

"Trompe l'Oeil" Painting in the Late 19th Century 280

The Battle over Public Space 282
*Sites of Moral Instruction: Urban Parks and Wilderness
Preserves* 282
Urban Poverty and Public Art Museums 286

The End of a Century: Art and Architecture and the World's Columbian Exposition 288
The Chicago School of Architecture and the White City 288
Women at the Fair: Allegories, Architects, and Artists 292

6 The Machine, the Primitive, and the Modern 301

Realism and the Ashcan School 304
Painting New York City 304
Socialism and Art: The Painting and Graphic Art of John Sloan 312
Sculpting Everyday Life 315

Modernism and the Avant-Garde 317
Alfred Stieglitz and 291 317
The Armory Show and the Paterson Strike Pageant 320

World War I and the Art of Reproduction 322
Selling and Protesting the War: World War I Posters and "The Masses" 322
Rethinking Reproduction: Marcel Duchamp 325

Modernism, Gender, and Sexuality 327
The (Homo)Sexual Male Body 327
Figuration, Abstraction, and the Female Body 332

Escape to Mexico 337
The Mexican Revolution and Mural Movement 337
The Search for the Exotic: American Artists in Mexico 338
Art in the Service of Revolution: The Photographs of Tina Modotti 342

Mexico in America: Imaging the American Southwest 343
The Santa Fe Railway and the Selling of the Southwest 343
From Artifact to Souvenir to Work of Art: The Promotion of Hopi Pottery and Washoe Basketry 346

The Harlem Renaissance 350
Harlem and the "New Negro" 350
Precursor to the Harlem Renaissance: Henry Ossawa Tanner 352
Africa and America: The Imaging of African American Life 355

7 Art for the People, Art Against Fascism 363

A New Deal for Art 365

A New Boss: Federal Programs for the Arts 365

A Prosperous America: Federally Sponsored Murals 367

Documents of Despair and Renewal: Photography and the Farm Security Administration 374

Modernist Architecture, Domestic Design, and Planned Communities 378

Alternative Visions: Urban Life and the Industrial Worker 381

The Mexican Muralists in America 381

The Coit Tower Murals and the Big Strike 385

Painting Injustice: Philip Evergood, Ben Shahn, and Thomas Hart Benton 388

Alternative Visions: The Corporate View of Industrial America 391

Assembling an Image of Ford: Diego Rivera and Charles Sheeler 391

Rockefeller and the Limits of Corporate Patronage 394

Industry and Labor in "Fortune" and "Life" 397

Alternative Visions: Women at Work in the City 399

Alternative Visions: Rural America 404

Drought and Foreclosure: The Other Side of New Deal Murals 404

Black Poverty and Lynching in Rural America 408

Art Against Fascism: The Popular Front and the American Artists' Congress 413

The War at Home: Japanese American Internment and American Patriotism 416

Social Surrealism, Abstraction, and Democracy 419

Social Surrealism and Critiques of Fascism 419

Style as Subject, Abstraction as Freedom 422

8 From Cold War to Culture Wars 429

Gestures of Liberation: Abstract Art as the New American Art 432

The Blinding Light of the Blast: Representing Atomic Destruction 432

Abstract Expressionism and the Cold War 434

Abstract Expressionism's Others: Race, Gender, and the Politics of Exclusion 440

Pastiche and Parody: Another Take on the Real 445

*The Blurring of Boundaries: Painting Into Sculpture,
Junk Into Art* 445

Opting Out and Raging On: Art of the Beat Generation 451

Passionate Obsessives: Simon Rodia and James Hampton 454

Minimal Forms 456

The Hard Edge and the Soft Center 456

Earth as Art 462

The Framed Proposition 464

Popular Art, Pop Art, and Consumer Culture 464

Grandma Makes Art: Anna Mary Robertson Moses 464

*Realigning High Art: Pop Art and the Consumer
Revolution* 466

An Art of Protest: The Civil Rights Movement and the Vietnam War 473

Disquieting Images: Civil Rights and Civil Wrongs 473

Angry Art: Protesting the Vietnam War 478

The Personal is Political: Feminist Art of the 1970s 483

Dispelling the Feminine Mystique: Old Media, New Messages 483

Stepping Out: Feminist Performance Art 488

Public Art and Public Interest 491

Walls of Pride: Chicano /a Murals 491

Modernist Art and Public Controversy: Richard Serra's "Tilted Arc" and Maya Lin's "Vietnam Veterans Memorial" 492

Is Less More? Re-evaluating Modernism in Architecture 496

Modernist Architecture at Mid-Century 496

Postmodernist Architecture: Play and Paranoia 499

Postmodernism and Art 502

Art Stars 503

Art Activism 508

The Culture Wars 512

Sexual Subversion: Attacks on Public Funding for the Arts 512

Art and the Politics of Identity 516

Timeline 521

Bibliography 526

Websites 541

Acknowledgments for Illustrations 542

Index 546