Contents

Acknowledgments vii
Introduction 1

PART I. TOWARD A CRITICAL ANTHROPOLOGY
OF ANTHROPOLOGY

1. Reworking Anthropology from the “Outside Within”  7

PART II. REHISTORICIZING ANTHROPOLOGY

2. Unburying Theory, Repositioning Practice: Anthropological
Praxis in Peripheral Predicaments 63

3. Remapping Routes, Unearting Roots: Rethinking Caribbean
Connections with the U.S. South  82

PART III. ENGAGING INTERLOCUTORS IN INTERDISCIPLINARY DIALOGUE

4. Writing against the Grain: Cultural Politics of Difference in
Alice Walker’s Fiction 109

5. Probing the Legacy of Empire: Reflexive Notes on Caribbeanist Gordon K. Lewis 134
PART IV. THE POWER OF ETHNOGRAPHY, THE ETHNOGRAPHY OF POWER

6. Gangs, Politics, and Dilemmas of Global Restructuring in Jamaica 153
7. The Gendered Violence of Structural Adjustment 179

PART V. STRUCTURAL VIOLENCE HERE AND THERE IN THE GLOBAL ERA

8. Everyday Neoliberalism in Cuba: A Glimpse from Jamaica 201
9. Global Apartheid at Home and Abroad 220
10. Justice for All: The Challenges of Advocacy Research in the Global Age 238

PART VI. BLURRING BOUNDARIES BETWEEN ACADEMIA AND THE WORLD BEYOND

11. Teaching Philosophy 261
12. Academia, the Free Market, and Diversity 267
13. A Labor of Love: An Emancipated Woman's Legacy 282

Notes and References 301
Index 347