

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction	Writing the Classics Black: The Poetic and Political Function of African American Women's Classical Revision	1
1	Historical Overview of Ancient and Contemporary Representations of Classical Mythology	19
2	Classical Discourse as Political Agency: African American Revisionist Mythmaking by Phillis Wheatley, Henrietta Cordelia Ray, and Pauline Hopkins	39
3	Gwendolyn Brooks' Racialization of the Persephone and Demeter Myth in "The Anniad" and "In the Mecca"	67
4	The Destruction and Reconstruction of Classical and Cultural Myth in Toni Morrison's Song of Solomon , Beloved and The Bluest Eye	99
5	A Universal Approach to Classical Mythology: Rita Dove's The Darker Face of the Earth and Mother Love	133
Notes		173
Works Cited		183
Index		195