

Contents

Illustrations	vii
Abbreviations	viii
A Note on Texts and Quotations	ix
Acknowledgements	x
Introduction	1
1 Technology	8
Romance	12
Confession	27
Printing	35
2 Insurgency	40
Complaint	43
Satire	58
The rise of English	67
3 Statecraft	72
Censorship	75
Propaganda	86
Counsel	97
4 Place	105
The schoolroom	108
Religious communities	117
The household	123
Cities and towns	132
The way or the street	143
5 Jurisdiction	150
The church	153
Laughter	164
The aesthetic	173

Resources for Study 187

Chronology 191

Notes 197

References 220

Index 245

Illustrations

- Fig. 1 Bodleian Library, University of Oxford, MS Laud 570, fol. 16r., showing Temperance, with a clock on her head, a bit and bridle in her teeth, reins in her right hand, eyeglasses in her left hand, resting her feet, which wear spurs, on a windmill. Reproduced by permission of the Bodleian Library, Oxford. 11
- Fig. 2 Bayeux Tapestry, showing Anglo-Saxon soldiers standing before William the Conqueror's mounted soldiers. Reproduced by permission of the City of Bayeux. 14