

Contents

	PAGE
AUTHOR'S FOREWORD	v
Chapter I: OUTLINE OF ENGLISH EDUCATION	1-38
Introduction—The Ministry of Education; Constitution and Functions—The Relationship between the Ministry of Education and Parliament—The Relationship between the Ministry of Education and Local Education Authorities—The Constitution and Functions of Local Education Authorities—The Relationship between the Local Education Authority and the Education Committee of the Authority—Development Plans for the Education Service—Voluntary Schools; their Nature and Status.
The National Associations of Local Authorities, of Education Committees and of Teachers—The Nature and Functions of National Associations.
The Universities; their Status and Relationship to Local Education Authorities and to the Ministry of Education and to the Government—The Position of Independent Schools.
How Education is Financed—Grant Relationship between the Ministry of Education and Local Education Authorities—The Grant Formula and its Special Provisions Relating to the Training of Teachers, the School Meals Service and the General Service of Education—The Total Cost of the Education Service.
Chapter II: THE ESTABLISHMENT, MAINTENANCE AND MANAGEMENT OF SCHOOLS	39-57
The Administrative Arrangements under which they are built by Local Education Authorities—The Constitution of Bodies of Management—The Arrangements for the Building of Voluntary Schools—The Nature of the Building Regulations of the Ministry of Education—How the Schools are Equipped—The General Arrangements for Appointing Staff and the Authority Vested in the Teaching Staff.

Secondary Schools: Building Regulations and Administrative Arrangements for their Erection—How the Secondary Schools are Organised—The Nature and Functions of the Governing Body—The Different Types of Secondary School; the Grammar School, the Technical School, the Modern School, Comprehensive and Multilateral Schools—The Relative Responsibility of the Ministry, Local Education Authorities and Governing Body in Secondary Education—The Responsibilities of the Teaching Staff—The General Nature of the Work Done in Different Types of Secondary School.

Examinations—The Functions of the Secondary School Examinations Council.

Absence of Fees in Primary and Secondary Schools.

Chapter III: FURTHER EDUCATION

58-81

Co-operation with Industry and Commerce in the Provision of Further Education—Statutory Duties of the Local Education Authority—Schemes of Further Education—The National Advisory Council on Industrial and Commercial Education—Technical Colleges for Full- and Part-time Further Education, their Provision, Maintenance and Management—The Range of Professional Qualifications for which Courses are Provided—The Significance of National Certificates—National Colleges—The Proposed Provision of County Colleges.

Agricultural Education—The Provision, Maintenance and Management of Farm Institutes—The Importance of Voluntary Organisations in Relation to Agricultural Education—The Relationship between the Advisory Service in Agriculture and the Education Service.

Adult Education—the Functions of the Local Education Authorities, Voluntary Bodies and the Universities in Adult Education—The National Institute of Adult Education, its Constitution and its Functions—The Purposes of Adult Education in England.

Youth Service, its Range and its Purpose—The Function of the Local Education Authority and of Voluntary Bodies—The Different Types of Youth Organisation—Methods of Finance and Relationships between Statutory and Voluntary Bodies.

Recreative and Social Facilities—The Powers and Duties of Local Education Authorities in the Provision of Playing Fields and Other Recreative Facilities—

The National Playing Fields Association—The Contribution of Welfare Schemes in Industry—Facilities for Drama, Music and Art—Library Facilities and the Organisation of the Library System.

Chapter IV: UNIVERSITY EDUCATION 82-96

The Nature and Function of a University—The Function of the University Grants Committee—The Organisation and Management of Universities—Provision of Day and Residential Accommodation—The Opportunity for Students to get to the University and the Sources of Financial Assistance—The Functions of the Ministry of Education, the Local Education Authorities in relation to University Education—The Independence of the University—State Scholarships,
Open Scholarships, Major Awards of Local Education
Authorities, their Extent and their Value.

Chapter V: THE TRAINING AND EMPLOYMENT OF TEACHERS 97-II7

Recruitment and Training—The Different Types of Teacher—The Various Ways in which Teachers are Trained and the Qualifications Required—The Functions of the National Advisory Council for the Recruitment and Training of Teachers—The Total Teaching Force and Estimates of Recruitment Needs
—The Relative Responsibilities of the Ministry of Education, the Local Education Authorities, the Universities and the Training Colleges in the Training of Teachers.

Conditions of Tenure of Teachers; How They are Negotiated—The Function of the National Associations of Teachers and the National Associations of Local Education Authorities in the Settlement of Conditions of Tenure—The Relationship between the Employing Local Education Authority and the Individual Teacher.

Salaries of Teachers—The Nature and Function of the Burnham Committees—How Salaries are Negotiated
—The Place of the Ministry of Education, the Local Education Authorities and the Teachers in these Negotiations—The Present General Nature of the Burnham Scales of Salary for Teachers—The Importance of Co-operation and Goodwill in Salary Negotiations.

Chapter VI: SPECIAL SERVICES 118-146

School Medical and Dental Service—The General Range of Duties of Local Education Authorities for the Health of the Schoolchildren—The Relationship between the School Health Service and the National Health Service—The Importance of the School Dental Service as a Preventive Service.

School Meals Service, its Development and General Administration—the Extent of the Provision and How it is Financed—The School Meals Service as an Essential Part of the Education Service—The Extent to which Parents Contribute Towards the Cost.

Handicapped Pupils—A General Sketch of the Provision of Special Schools for such Pupils—The Nature and Range of the Provision for Blind Children, Partially-Sighted, Deaf and Partially-Deaf, Delicate, Diabetic, Educationally Sub-Normal, Epileptic Mal-adjusted, Physically Handicapped Children, Children Suffering from Speech Defects and Other Handicaps.

Psychological Service—The Increasing Provision by Local Education Authorities of Child Guidance Facilities and an Advisory Service on Psychological Problems—The Relationship of the Psychological Service to the Schools.

Research in Education—The Contribution of Local Education Authorities, the Universities and Institutes of Education to Educational Research—The National Foundation for Educational Research, its Nature and its Functions.

Youth Employment Service—The Nature and Range of the Provision for Advising Young People on Careers and Assisting Them in Finding Suitable Employment—The Functions of the Ministry of Labour, the Ministry of Education and the Local Education Authority in Relation to Youth Employment—The Central Youth Employment Executive, its Nature and its Powers.

Education Welfare Service—The Functions of Welfare Officers of Local Education Authorities Relating to the Employment of Young People, School Attendance and Other Welfare Work.

Nursery Education—the Nature and Extent of the Provision for Children under School Age—The Functions of Nursery Education.

CONTENTS

xi

Chapter VII: CONCLUSION	147-159
Review of the General Relationships between the Ministry, Local Education Authorities, Governing Bodies and Teachers in the National System of Edu- cation.
The Balance of Power—The Importance of Parlia- mentary Government and a Free Press—the Ultimate Sanctions of the Education Acts—The Significance of Co-operating Machinery in the English System— The Importance of Goodwill and Co-operation— Freedom in Education and its Protection.
APPENDIX	160-163