

Contents

Acknowledgements	page vii
Introduction	ix
List of symbols	xiii
1 A brief introduction to Lumasaaba	i
1.1 The relationship of the phonological representation to the phonetic realisation	i
1.2 Morphological structure	10
2 The model of description	21
2.1 The model developed by Chomsky and Halle	21
2.2 The model proposed for this description of Lumasaaba	25
3 The rules of the phonology	55
3.1 Positive Conditions	55
3.2 Redundancy rules	63
3.3 The P-rules	79
3.4 Word Boundary rules	96
3.5 Summary of the rules	99
3.6 The process of realisation	106
4 Phonetic realisation	113
4.1 Consonants	114
4.2 Vowels	123
4.3 Frequency of occurrence of segments in texts	128
5 The dialects of Lumasaaba	129
5.1 Dialectal variation	129
5.2 The relationship between the dialects	146
5.3 Social factors affecting the dialect situation	171
Appendix 1 Word lists	176
Appendix 2 Some unanswered questions	181
Bibliography	184
Index	189