

Contents

FOREWORD, BY EDMUND W. GORDON	ix
Introduction	1
Vernon C. Polite and James Earl Davis
1 Teaching Black Males: Lessons from the Experts	8
Michele Foster and Tryphenia B. Peele
2 The Information Rage: Computers and Young African American Males	20
Bernard A. Carver
3 The Social Construction of High-Incidence Disabilities: The Effect on African American Males	34
Beth Harry and Mary G. Anderson
4 Identifying Giftedness Among African American Males: Recommendations for Effective Recruitment and Retention	51
Donna Y. Ford, Tarek C. Grantham, and Deryl F. Bailey
5 Who Am I? The Development of the African American Male Identity	68
Saladin K. Corbin and Robert L. Pruitt, II
6 Responsive Teaching for African American Male Adolescents	82
Peter Murrell, Jr.
7 Combating Educational Neglect in Suburbia: African American Males and Mathematics	97
Vernon C. Polite
8 An Absence of a Talented Tenth	108
Joseph A. Hawkins
9 Ebony Men in the Ivory Tower: A Policy Perspective	122
M. Christopher Brown II

10	What Does Gender Have to Do with the Experiences of African American College Men? James Earl Davis	134
11	African American Achievement and Socioeconomic Collapse: Alternative Theories and Empirical Evidence Patrick L. Mason	149
12	African American Males and the Struggle Toward Responsible Fatherhood Vivian Gadsden and Phillip J. Bowman	166
13	A Cup That Runneth Over: Personal Reflections on the Black Male Experience Vernon C. Polite	184
	REFERENCES	197
	ABOUT THE EDITORS AND THE CONTRIBUTORS	223
	INDEX	229