

CONTENTS

Preface	7
Introduction	9
Hors-d'œuvre	11
Opening addresses	13
Chairman's introduction Bent Egberg Mikkelsen, Danish Veterinary and Food Administration	13
Welcome address Peter Baum, Council of Europe	19
Young Minds 2002-2003 – forward ever, backward never Sarah Hunter and Tara Mcardle	23
Introductory overview – Health behaviour and nutrition among school-aged children Lea Maes, Ghent University	29
Keynote address – Eating at school – A European Study Fannie de Boer, Wageningen University and Reseach Centre, the Netherlands	35
Participants' interviews Ian Young, rapporteur	45
Young Minds forum workshop	51
I – Healthy eating in schools Facilitator: Jeltje Snel	59
Is there a healthy school meal? Ines Heindl, University of Flensburg, Germany	59
Hungry for success: A whole approach to school meals in Scotland Gillian Kynoch, Scottish Executive Health Department	67
How can school influence children's food choice and improve their diet? Isabelle Loureiro, Escola Nacional de Salude Publica, Portugal	77
Discussion	85
II - How to provide healthy food in schools Facilitator: Vivian Rasmussen	87

Eating at school

Making healthy choices

Healthy eating in the traditional school meals system. The role of the private food operator Richard Coudyser, Sodexho Education, France	87
How to provide healthy food in schools: School fruit programmes as a short cut to promoting healthy eating in schools – The Norwegian experience Anniken Owren Aarum, Directorate for Health and Social Affairs, Norway ...	95
The home-made lunchbox – Has it got a future? Doris Kuhness, Styria Vitalis Organisation, Austria	99
Discussion	101
III – Whole school approach
Facilitator: Maria Vaz de Almeida	103
School food policy: linking with The Netherlands healthy schools action programme Goof Buijs, National Institute of Health Promotion and Disease Prevention, the Netherlands	103
Promoting good personal health care and healthy consumption habits through a good school climate Jean-Claude Vuille, Department of Public Health, Switzerland	109
Health and education – Intersectoral role of school nutrition and nutrition education Irena Simcic, Institute of Education, and Cirila Hlastan Ribic, Ministry of Health, Republic of Slovenia	113
Discussion	117
IV – Partnerships for healthy choices
Facilitator: Cristine Deliens	119
We decide what we eat: Active involvement of students in developing school meal policies Bjarne Bruun Jensen, University of Education, Denmark	119
Eating at school: The school and parents as partners – Utopia or reality? Patricia Melotte and Christophe Content, Association des parents de l'Ecole communale Clair Vivre, Belgium	131

National inter-agency co-operation regarding nutrition in schools Michel Chauliac, Ministère de la Santé, France	137
Discussion	151
Poster papers
Policy reviews (posters 4, 5, 12, 13 and 22)	153
Partnerships (posters 1, 9, 11, 15, 18 and 23)	156
Education and training (posters 2, 3, 6, 7, 16, 21)	161
Utilising research (posters 10, 14 and 21)	165
Changing traditions (posters 24 and 25)	168
The environment and sustainability (posters 17, 18 and 25)	170
Closing remarks
Bent Egberg Mikkelsen	175
Rapporteur's reflections
Ian Young	177
Appendix 1: List of participants	181
Appendix 2: Poster papers	195
Appendix 3: Some useful websites	199