

Contents

1	General introduction	2
Part one: Born talkers
2	Introduction to part one	8
3	Spoken language and transcription	9
4	Language and learning	24
5	Studying the language of young children	38
Part two: Learning to talk
6	Introduction to part two	90
7	Before the first word: Ralph from six weeks to six months	91
8	A word at a time: Helen at twenty months	97
9	Nother one: Helen at twenty-one months	104
10	Playing in earnest: Helen at two years	113
11	I can do: Helen at twenty-six months	131
12	Building a Lego farm: Helen at two years seven months	152
13	Questions in the park: Matthew at three years five months	165
14	Tailpiece to part two	193
Part three: Talking to learn
15	Introduction to part three: Classroom interaction	196
16	Mrs Parkin and Michael	210
17	Snails	220
18	Timothy Winters	246
19	Cider with Rosie	270
20	Epilogue: Letting them talk	279
	Appendix: Using a tape recorder	281
	Glossary	286
	Bibliography	301
	Index	307

Note: words in bold type in the text are explained in the Glossary (p. 286).