

Contents

---

PREFACE	ix
1. Introduction	3
An Ecology of Bilingualism
An Overview of the Book
2. Bilingualism and Intelligence	14
The "Old" and "New" American Immigrants
Bilingualism and the Nature-Nurture Issue
The Hereditarians and the Language Handicap
The Experiential View of Bilingualism
A Positive View of Bilingualism
Some Methodological Problems
—Reconciling Differences
— 3. Childhood Bilingualism	45
Werner Leopold, Linguist
Leopold's Legacy
Madorah Smith, Psychologist
—More Recent Studies
The Challenge to the Empiricism of Werner Leopold and Madorah Smith
— 4. The Bilingual Mind	73
Language and Thought
—The Relationship Between the Two Languages
Can We Build a Typology of Bilinguals?
Reflections on the Bilingual Mind

5.	How Children Learn a Second Language	106
	A Japanese Child Learns English
	The Research: A Changing Focus
	The Influence of the Native Language
	The Role of "Prefabricated" Language
	Are First and Second Languages Acquired in the Same Way?
	Individual Differences Among Children
6.	How Adults Learn a Second Language	137
	A Man Named Alberto
	Do Children and Adults Acquire a Second Language in the Same Way?
	Quantitative Differences Between Children and Adults
	Factors Determining Individual Variation Toward Integration
7.	Bilingualism in Society	165
	Bilingualism in the United States
	Some Other Bilingual Communities
	The Micro and Macro Levels of Sociolinguistics
	An Integrative Approach
8.	Bilingual Education	193
	The Origins of Recent Bilingual Education
	The Federal Role in Bilingual Education
	The Impact of the Federal Initiatives
	A Scrapbook of Opinions
	The Policy Debate on Bilingual Education
	The Charges and Their Rebuttals
	Bilingual Education in Perspective
	The Future of Bilingual Education
9.	Reflections on Bilingualism	231
	The Mirror of Bilingualism
	REFERENCES	243
	INDEX	257