

	Preface	ix
	Introduction	1
1	Ironic Perspective and Self-Dramatization in the Confessional I-Novel of Japan	13
2	From Tale to Short Story: Akutagawa's "Toshishun" and Its Chinese Origins	39
3	The Plot Controversy between Tanizaki and Akutagawa	55
4	Western Dark Romanticism and Japan's Aesthetic Literature	70
5	Tanizaki and Poe: The Grotesque and the Quest for Supernal Beauty	82
6	Disease and Madness in Japan's Modernist Literature: Yokomitsu Riichi's "Machine" and the Short Stories of Kajii Motojiro	104
7	Kawabata's Dilettante Heroes	120

8	Literature and Ideology: The Feminist Autobiography of Miyamoto Yuriko	146
9	Politics and Literature: The Debate over Socialist Realism	163
10	Confessions of a Mask: The Art of Self-Exposure in Mishima Yukio	181
11	“I” in the Novel: Self-Revelation and Self-Concealment in the Novels of Tomioka Taeko	191
	Notes	201
	About the Author	219