

Contents

Preface	xi
Introduction: Authority and Fallibility in Medieval Textual Culture	I
Chapter 1. De officio praedicatoris : Of Preaching, Pardons, and Power	36
I. Constructing the Preacher: Authority, Knowledge, Attributes	37
The Sinful Preacher: Secrecy, Scandal, and Skill	40
Art versus Virtue: The Challenge of Aristotle	48
Theory into Practice: Codes of Conduct in Preachers' Handbooks	51
II. Consecrating the Sacraments: Priestly Power and the Keys to Heaven	54
Sin versus Sacrament: Evil Ministers of the Mass	55
Vetula baptizat, et baptizatum est : The Power to Baptize	62
Authority and Agency in the Tribunal of Penance	68
III. Making Indulgences: Spiritual and Material Economies	74
Marketing the Divine Mercy	78
Authority and Jurisdiction in the Dispensing of Pardon	87
Honoring Becket: The Case for Canterbury	91

Chapter 2. Moral Fallibility: Chaucer's Pardoner and the Office of Preacher	98
I. Alms and the Man: The Deviant Pardoner	99
II. Prechyng for coveityse : The Deviant Preacher	118
III. Breaking Bodies: The Drunkard's Eucharist	135
IV. Geldyng or mare : The Deviant Body	147
Chaucer and the Queering Eunuch	152
Reclaiming Public Deviancy	161
Chapter 3. De impedimento sexus : Women's Bodies and the Prohibition of Priestly Power	170
I. Sex versus Sacrament: The Constrictions of Symbolism	173
Sexus non est in anima : Orthodox Positions	175
Crowning Glories	180
A Woman's Touch	182
II. Silence in Church: Private Teaching and the Denial of Public Office	183
Confining the auditrix and doctrix	183
Limiting Biblical Precedent	189
III. Unnatural Selection: Authorization Through Inspiration	199
Prophecy and Purity of Life: In Defense of Holy Women	200
Affirming Biblical Precedent	207
IV. Sexus non est in anima : Heterodox Reactions	210
John Wyclif: A Shameless Worker for Women?	211
Walter Brut: Female Ministry in the Absence of Men	221
Confronting the praedicatrix	226
Feminizing Donatism	231
Women Priests and Absolute Power	236
Changing Bodies: Pythagoras and the Transactions of Polemic	240

Chapter 4. Gender as Fallibility: Chaucer's Wife of Bath and the Impediment of Sex	246
I. Alisoun Among the auctoritees	250
II. Unbridling Desire: Female Sexuality and the Making of Marriage	264
An Unstable Human Matter	264
Only for Amorous Love	282
III. Old Wives' Tales: Vetularity and Virtue	294
Challenging Obscenity: From coilles to bel chose	295
The Wisdom of Old Women	307
IV. Beyond the Body? Alisoun on Sovereignty of Soul	312
The Lusts of Loathly Damsels: Sovereignty as Sexual Possession	313
Sourcing Dominion: gentillesse and Gender	315
Publishing the Private	332
List of Abbreviations	349
Notes	353
Bibliography	467
General Index	489
Index of Biblical Citations	505
Acknowledgments	509