

Contents

Acknowledgments	xi
Preface	xiii
1 The Last Century in Language Learning and Teaching: A Brief Overview		3
Continuity and Change in Language Teaching	3
Grammar-Translation Method	4
The Direct Method	5
Reading Method	6
Structural Approach	6
Audio-Lingual Method	7
Situational Method	8
Learning Theories	9
The Basis of the Functional-Notional Approach	9	X
2 A Functional-Notional Approach to Language Learning		13
A Preliminary Definition of Functions and Notions	13
Reasons for Optimism	17
Current Thinking on a Unit-Credit System	19
Theoretical Bases	22
Sociolinguistic Considerations	22
Psycholinguistic Components	27	X
Linguistics	29
Psychological Bases	33	X
Educational Principles	35
Additional Characteristics of the Content in an F-N Approach	40	X
SUGGESTIONS FOR DISCUSSION	45
3 Planning the Curriculum Content		47
Introductory Remarks	47
Constraints on the Curriculum	47
Criteria in Curriculum Planning	58

The Content of the Curriculum	60
Attention to Students' Needs	60
Categories of Functions	61
Categories of Situations	66
Grammatical Categories and Classes	68
Categories of Topics	71
Writing the Curriculum	75
Units	76
Modules	80
General Basic Segments of a Unit	84
SUGGESTIONS FOR DISCUSSION	88

4 Methodology 90

General Considerations	90
A Functional-Notional Methodology	90
The Role of Fluency Work	94
The Teacher's Responsibilities	98
The Teacher's More Specific Tasks	101
Ensuring Balance in a Program	104
Preparing a Varied Daily Schedule	106
Basic Steps in Preparing Lesson Plans	107
Making Provision for Group Instruction	109
SUGGESTIONS FOR DISCUSSION	111

5 Teaching the Discrete Linguistic-Cultural Features 113

The Sound System	115
Presenting the Grammar Subsystem	121
Steps in Presenting Items of Grammar	122
Some Comments Related to Grammar	124
Exemplifying the Functional Approach: The Functional Categories	125
Teaching the Specific Notions Through the Lexical Subsystem	127
Developing Cultural Insights	128
SUGGESTIONS FOR DISCUSSION	133

6 Developing the Communicative Abilities 135

Introductory Comments	135
Listening-Speaking Abilities	136
Listening Activities	138
General Listening Activities	138

General Speaking Activities	141
Developing the Ability to Read	143
Developing the Enabling (Sub)skills	144
Intensive and Extensive Reading	146
Some Reading Related Activities	147
Other Comments on Reading	148
Developing the Ability to Write	148
General Comments	148
Four Basic Procedures in Controlled and Guided Writing	150
SUGGESTIONS FOR DISCUSSION	155

7 Strategies: Activities, Tasks, Techniques 157

Interpretative and Productive Activities	157
Oral	157
Written	158
Performance (Production) Activities	159
Time-Honored Tasks and Activities	165
Basic Techniques	166
SUGGESTIONS FOR DISCUSSION	172

8 Learning Resources and Materials of Instruction 173

The Teacher, The Learners, and the Classroom Itself	174
Teacher and Learners	174
Parts of the Room	175
Real Objects	177
Pictures	177
Picture Charts	178
Miscellaneous Charts	179
Other Teacher-Made Materials	180
Flash Cards	180
The Pocket Chart	180
The Flannel Board	181
Songs and Games	182
Commercially Available Equipment	182
SUGGESTIONS FOR DISCUSSION	184

9 Evaluation 185

Some "Wh" Questions	185
What Kinds of Tests Can Be Used?	185
Why Do We Test?	186

When Do We Test?	187
How Do We Test?	187
What Do We Test?	188
What Criteria Should We Consider in Planning Language Tests?	189
What Do We Do With Test Results?	191
Testing Communicative Competence	192
Interpretative	192
Productive Knowledge	194
Testing the Discreet Features of Language	195
To Test Their Knowledge of the Sound System	195
To Test Their Grasp of Grammatical Items	195
To Test Their Knowledge of Notions	196
Testing the Basic Communication Abilities	197
To Test Their Listening Comprehension	197
To Test Their Speaking Ability	197
To Test Their Reading Ability	198
To Test Their Writing Ability	198
Testing Cultural Understanding	199
Testing Literary Appreciation and Professional Knowledge	200
Proficiency Test Scales	201
FSI Absolute Language Proficiency Ratings	201
Rating Language Proficiency in Speaking and Understanding English	203
SUGGESTIONS FOR DISCUSSION	206

Conclusion

207

Appendix	208
Glossary	217
Bibliography	223
Index	227