

Contents

Introduction	I
1 The community as beneficiary
1.1 Overview	3
1.2 Language planning	4
1.3 Major issues in language planning	6
1.4 The language-planning process	24
1.5 Language-teaching programs	25
1.6 The benefits of language teaching to individuals and the community	28
Activities	31
2 The community as resource
2.1 Overview	32
2.2 Kinds of communities	32
2.3 Language use in the community	35
2.4 Decision-making within communities	37
2.5 Finding out about communities	38
2.6 Locating community resources	40
Activities	49
3 The community as control
3.1 Overview	50
3.2 The influence of local community groups	51
3.3 Characteristics of students, teachers, curriculum and programs	68
3.4 Becoming informed professionally	72
3.5 Getting support for your program	76
Activities	84
4 National policies and language teaching
4.1 Overview	85
4.2 The effects of national policies	86
4.3 Becoming informed politically	102
4.4 Making changes in educational policies and practices	105
Activities	112

5 Teaching English internationally

- 5.1 Overview 114
- 5.2 The spread of English 114
- 5.3 Exporting English 120
- 5.4 International employment possibilities and problems 125
- Activities 128

6 Predicting the future in language teaching

- 6.1 Overview 129
- 6.2 Time past 129
- 6.3 Time present 130
- 6.4 Time future 131
- Activities 138

Afterthoughts 139

Appendix A Useful journals and newsletters for second language teachers 140

Appendix B Language-teaching acronyms 142

Appendix C International and national organizations 143

Notes 145

Bibliography 149

Index of authors 152

Index of subjects 154