

Table of Contents

Foreword. . . . .	iii
Prefatory Note . . . . .	v

Part 1

HISTORICAL

Chapter I. RECENT HISTORY OF PRIMARY EDUCATION . . . . .	3
A. Primary Education a Recognised Stage in the National System . . . . .	3
B. Primary Schools . . . . .	5
C. The Consultative Committee's Report on the Primary School . . . . .	6
D. Effects of Some General Changes . . . . .	8
E. Handbooks of Suggestions . . . . .	9
F. The Present Book . . . . .	13
G. Primary Education Today . . . . .	13

Part 2

THE PRIMARY SCHOOLS

Chapter II. INTRODUCTION . . . . .	15
A. Pre-School Years. . . . .	15
(a) Their importance . . . . .	15
(b) Some aspects of children's characteristics and needs before five . . . . .	16
B. Needs and Characteristics Persisting Throughout the Primary School . . . . .	23
C. The Schools to Which Children of Primary Age Go . . . . .	25
Chapter III. NURSERY SCHOOLS AND CLASSES . . . . .	27
A. Nursery Schools . . . . .	27
(a) Nursery school and home . . . . .	27
(b) Staff. . . . .	28

	(c) Life in the nursery school . . .	29
	(d) Some special considerations . . .	32
	B. Nursery Classes . . . . .	34
	C. Children Under Five in Infant Classes . . .	35
	D. Nursery Education in the Future . . .	36
Chapter IV. INFANT SCHOOLS . . . . .		37
	A. Children Between Five and Seven . . .	37
	(a) Variety among children . . . . .	39
	B. Variety in Schools . . . . .	40
	C. From Home to School . . . . .	41
	(a) Some ways in which children are helped to begin school life happily
	D. The Early Stages in Infant Schools . . .	43
	(a) Materials and equipment . . . . .	43
	(b) The teacher's part . . . . .	45
	(c) The arrangement of time . . . . .	47
	E. The Later Stages . . . . .	48
	(a) Materials and equipment . . . . .	48
	(b) The teacher's part . . . . .	49
	(c) The arrangement of time . . . . .	50
	F. Infants in Old, Small Rural Schools . . .	51
	G. 'Activity' and Methodical Teaching . . .	52
	H. Achievements of Children towards the End of the Infant Stage . . . . .	54
Chapter V. JUNIOR SCHOOLS . . . . .		56
	A. Junior Schools are of Recent Growth . . .	56
	B. The Children in Junior Schools . . . . .	56
	C. The First Two Years in the Junior School . . . . .	58
	(a) The move from the infant school . . .	58
	(b) Cooperation, competition and sense of standard . . . . .	59
	(c) Nature and planning of the work . . .	60
	(d) Practical work, centres of interest and projects . . . . .	62
	(e) Some examples of the kind of development to be expected between seven and nine . . . . .	63

D. The Second Two Years in Junior School Life . . . . .	64
(a) Some significant changes . . . . .	64
(b) The children's attitude to others and to themselves . . . . .	65
(c) Creative work . . . . .	66
(d) Emergence of school subjects . . . . .	67
E. Ways of Providing for the Wide Range of Ability in Junior Schools . . . . .	68
(a) Classification by attainment, ability and age . . . . .	68
(b) 'Streams' . . . . .	69
(c) Handicapped children . . . . .	70
(d) The abler children . . . . .	73
F. Allocation to Secondary Education . . . . .	74
G. Conclusion . . . . .	77

Chapter VI. THE WORKING OF THE SCHOOL . . . . .

A. Introductory . . . . .	78
B. Discipline . . . . .	78
(a) Freedom and choice . . . . .	78
(b) Early stages in discipline . . . . .	79
(c) Early experience of moral principles . . . . .	80
(d) A young child's life as an individual . . . . .	81
(e) Discipline in school . . . . .	81
C. Health . . . . .	89
(a) Health education . . . . .	89
(b) Teachers and the School Health Service . . . . .	90
D. The Head as Teacher and Leader . . . . .	92
E. Organisation and Classification . . . . .	94
F. Timetable . . . . .	95
G. Schemes of Work . . . . .	96
H. Records, Tests and Examinations . . . . .	97
I. Road Safety . . . . .	101
J. Broadcasts to Schools and Television at Home . . . . .	101
K. Films and other Mechanical Aids to Teaching . . . . .	103

Chapter VII. SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL TREATMENT . . . . .	106
---	-----

Part 3

THE FIELDS OF LEARNING

Chapter VIII. THE CURRICULUM . . . . .	113
Chapter IX. RELIGION . . . . .	117
A. Religion and the Education Act, 1944	117
B. Corporate Worship . . . . .	118
C. Religious Instruction in County Schools . . . . .	120
D. Voluntary Schools . . . . .	121
E. Rights of Withdrawal . . . . .	122
F. The Content of Agreed Syllabuses	124
G. Teaching Schemes and the Syllabus.	127
H. Objectives in Religious Instruction .	128
Chapter X. PHYSICAL EDUCATION . . . . .	130
A. The Children at the Primary Stage .	130
B. Opportunities the Children Need .	132
C. The Programme . . . . .	133
D. Helping Children to Learn . . . . .	134
Chapter XI. LANGUAGE . . . . .	135
A. Introductory . . . . .	135
B. Oral Aspects of Language . . . . .	136
(a) Early development . . . . .	136
(b) The school's contribution . . . . .	140
C. Reading and Writing . . . . .	148
(a) An informal introduction to read- ing and writing . . . . .	148
(b) Systematic instruction in reading in the primary school . . . . .	151
(c) Transition from infant school to junior school . . . . .	155
(d) Individual reading in infant and junior school . . . . .	156
(e) Range and quality in reading .	158
(f) Writing in the infant school. .	159
(g) Development in the junior school	161

D. The Arts of Language . . . . .	166
(a) Story . . . . .	166
(b) Poetry . . . . .	170
(c) Drama . . . . .	174
Chapter XII. MATHEMATICS . . . . .	179
A. Introductory . . . . .	179
B. The Reasons for Teaching Mathematics . . . . .	180
(a) Historical . . . . .	180
(b) Utilitarian . . . . .	181
(c) Aesthetic. . . . .	182
C. The Teaching of Mathematics . . . . .	183
D. Children Learning Mathematics . . . . .	188
(a) The infant school . . . . .	190
(b) The junior school . . . . .	196
E. Other Considerations . . . . .	201
(a) The structure of mathematics . . . . .	201
(b) Extensions of work to fields other than arithmetic . . . . .	207
(c) Class organisation and correction of work . . . . .	209
F. General . . . . .	211
Chapter XIII. ART AND CRAFT AND NEEDLEWORK . . . . .	213
I. Art and Craft . . . . .	213
A. Historical Development . . . . .	213
B. Children as Artists and Craftsmen . . . . .	218
(a) Children's sense of shape and solid form . . . . .	222
(b) Children's feeling for texture . . . . .	222
(c) Children's sense of pattern and arrangement . . . . .	223
(d) Children's sense of colour . . . . .	225
C. Children's Early Experience of the Crafts . . . . .	226
D. The Importance of the Environment . . . . .	229
E. Drawing and Painting. . . . .	230
F. The Making of Patterns . . . . .	233
G. The Crafts: a General Survey . . . . .	235

2. Needlework
A. Its Historical Development in Schools	238
B. The Present Position . . . . .	240
(a) Children up to seven . . . . .	240
(b) Children from seven to eleven . . . . .	242
Chapter XIV. HANDWRITING . . . . .	247
A. The Nature of Handwriting. Its History . . . . .	247
B. Twentieth Century Developments . . . . .	249
C. The Present Position . . . . .	250
D. The Infant School . . . . .	250
(a) The beginning . . . . .	250
(b) Handwriting as rhythmical movement . . . . .	250
(c) Teaching technique . . . . .	251
(d) Writing and reading . . . . .	252
(e) How children use handwriting. Its arrangement upon the page . . . . .	253
(f) Achievement at the end of the infant school . . . . .	253
E. The Junior School . . . . .	254
(a) A widening view of handwriting as a craft . . . . .	254
(b) Teaching technique . . . . .	255
(c) The pen . . . . .	256
(d) Achievement at the end of the junior school . . . . .	258
Chapter XV. MUSIC. . . . .	260
A. Introductory: Music and Language . . . . .	260
B. Music at the Nursery and Infant Stages . . . . .	264
C. Music in the Junior School . . . . .	269
Chapter XVI. HISTORY. . . . .	275
A. The Problems of Teaching History to the Young. . . . .	275
B. Stories from History . . . . .	278
C. Sources of Story and the Use of Books . . . . .	281
D. Means of Expression . . . . .	282

E. Use of Archaeological and of Local History . . . . .	284
F. History and Other Subjects . . . . .	287
Chapter XVII. GEOGRAPHY AND NATURAL HISTORY . . . . .	289
A. Introductory . . . . .	289
(a) Geography and Natural History considered together . . . . .	289
(b) Visits and expeditions . . . . .	291
(c) Recording . . . . .	291
B. The Nursery School . . . . .	293
C. The Infant School . . . . .	293
D. The Junior School . . . . .	295
(a) Geography . . . . .	295
(b) Natural History . . . . .	304
E. Conclusion . . . . .	312

Part 4

THE SPECIAL PROBLEMS OF WALES

Chapter XVIII. WALES . . . . .	317
A. Introductory . . . . .	317
B. Organisation . . . . .	317
C. Welsh . . . . .	319
D. English . . . . .	322
E. Fields of Study . . . . .	324
F. The Teacher in Wales . . . . .	328