

Contents

Selected points for skip readers	1
Introduction	2
1 Why use simulations?	4
A simulation defined	4
Language	7
Communication skills	9
Motivation	10
Icebreaking	12
Realism	13
Cross-cultural simulations	15
Monitoring	17
2 Choosing simulations for the language classroom	19
Matching the language level	19
Simulations in the syllabus	21
Time	23
Numbers, space, hardware and costs	24
Where to look	26
Recommended short list	27
Checklist of criteria for choosing simulations	29
3 Preparing for the simulation	30
Teacher participation	30
Adapting	31
An overview briefing	32
Specific briefing	33
Role allocation	37
Language briefing	38
4 The simulation in action	40
The Controller	40
Monitoring the functional behaviour	42
Monitoring the language	44

5	The follow-up	47
	Debriefing for behaviour	47
	Debriefing for language	48
	Analysing simulation discourse	50
	Whatever happened to Erid?	58
	Follow-up activities	62
6	Will the simulation work?	64
	Dissecting a simulation	64
	Talking Rocks	66
	North Sea Challenge	69
7	Assessing the result	76
	Validity of the simulation technique	76
	Aims and tools	77
	Spies, managers and civil servants	77
	Simulations in language examinations	80
	Informal assessments	83
	Conclusions and suggestions for assessment	84
8	Simulations in teacher training	85
	Simulations about teaching	85
	Teaching about simulations	87
Appendix A	We're not going to use simulations	89
Appendix B	Eight key reminders	112
Bibliography		121	