

Contents

Preface	ix
Introduction	1
Chapter 1 Teachers, Researchers and Curriculum	7
1 Curriculum Research and Teacher Professionalism	7
2 Eight General Traditions in the Study of Education	10
3 Five 'Dimensions' of Curriculum Research	20
4 Curriculum Research and Professional Competence	29
5 Technical, Practical and Strategic Views	35
6 Teachers' Knowledge	41
7 Conclusion	44
Further Reading	45
Chapter 2 The Natural Scientific View of Educational Theory and Practice	51
1 Introduction	51
2 The Foundations of Educational Theory: From Philosophy to Science	52
3 Education as an Applied Science	55
4 The Positivist Approach to the Problem of Theory and Practice	61
5 Criticisms of Positivism	71
Further Reading	79
Chapter 3 The Interpretive View of Educational Theory and Practice	83
1 Introduction	83
2 The Sociology of Education from Functionalism to Phenomenology	84

Contents

3	The Interpretive Approach to Social Science	86
4	Theory and Practice	90
5	The Interpretive Approach and 'the Practical'	92
6	Criticisms of Interpretive Social Science	94
7	Conclusion	98
	Further Reading	100
Chapter 4	Theory and Practice: Redefining the Problem	103
1	Introduction	103
2	The Idea of an Educational Science	105
3	The Nature and Purpose of Educational Research	106
4	Theory and Practice: Redefining the Problem	112
5	Educational Research and Science	118
6	Towards a Science of Educational Research	122
	Further Reading	127
Chapter 5	A Critical Approach to Theory and Practice	129
1	Critical Theory: the Background	131
2	Habermas's Critical Social Science	134
3	Theory and Practice	144
4	Conclusion	150
	Further Reading	152
Chapter 6	Towards a Critical Educational Science	155
1	Introduction	155
2	Critical Educational Science as Research for Education	155
3	The Definition and Character of Action Research	162
4	Conclusion	174
	Further Reading	175
Chapter 7	Action Research as Critical Educational Science	179
1	Introduction	179
2	A Dialectical View of Rationality	180
3	The Systematic Development of Teachers' Interpretive Categories	188
4	Ideology-Critique	193
5	From the Organization of Enlightenment to the Organization of Action	194
6	The Unity of Theory and Practice: Criticism and Praxis in Self-reflective Communities	207

7 Conclusion	209
Further Reading	211
Chapter 8 Educational Research, Educational Reform and the Role of the Profession	215
1 Introduction	215
2 Educational Research, Policy and Reform	216
3 Educational Action Research and the Profession	220
4 Conclusion	223
Bibliography	225
Index	235