

Contents

Preface	vii
1. The Structure of Repression in Renaissance and Baroque Linguistics	1
2. Dwarfs and Giants in a Family Romance: Luis de Góngora's Fábula de Polifemo y Galatea and Soledades	27
3. Angel in the Mire: Francisco de Quevedo	55
4. The Rhetoric of Innocence: Benito Jerónimo Feijoo	85
5. The Weaver's Trade: Diego de Torres Villarroel	109
6. The Critical Sublime: Ignacio de Luzán and Esteban de Arteaga	141
7. The Anatomy of Grammar in Eighteenth-Century Models of Linguistic Change	167
Conclusion	191
Notes	195
Bibliography	199