

CONTENTS

	Acknowledgments	xi
	Introduction	1
ONE	Modernist Visions and Municipal Displays: The Founding and Development of German Ethnographic Museums	17
TWO	The International Market in Material Culture	51
THREE	The Cultures of Collecting and the Politics of Science	95
FOUR	The Audience as Author: Museums in Public	131
FIVE	Museum Chaos: Spectacle and Order in German Ethnographic Museums	163
	Conclusion	215
	Notes	221
	Bibliography	253
	Index	277

ILLUSTRATIONS

- Adolf Bastian 20
- Benin bronze casting—a warrior and his companions 72
- Benin bronze casting—memorial head of royalty 73
- Benin bronze casting—“set” of bronze figures 74
- Ivory tusks from Benin 76
- Bella Bella (Heiltsuk) canoe 82
- Nootka eagle mask 82
- Kwakiutl mask of the crooked beak 83
- Indian exhibit, 1912 155
- Floor plan of the Hamburgisches Museum für Völkerkunde, 1893 173
- Cabinets in the Hamburgisches Museum für Völkerkunde, 1905–10 174
- Permanent display in the Hamburgisches Museum für Völkerkunde, 1905–10 174
- Grassi-Museum in Leipzig 176
- Right side of the vestibule in the Grassi-Museum 177
- Central stairwell in the Grassi-Museum 178
- Floor plan of the Museum für Völkerkunde Berlin 184
- Museum für Völkerkunde Berlin 188
- Entering the Museum für Völkerkunde Berlin, 1887 189

The Lichthof on opening day 190

Cabinet containing materials from Amazonian
Indians 195

Magical implements from the Batak in Sumatra 203

Exhibition of non-Europeans in Castan's
Panoptikum 211

Tripoli display at the Munich Oktoberfest, 1912 212

A "Bedouin show" at the Munich Oktoberfest, 1901 212