

CONTENTS

List of Illustrations	vii
Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction
Danger, Delight, and Victorian Women's Shopping	1
One
Goblin Markets
Women Shoppers and the East in London's West End	15
Two
Lady Audley's Shopping Disorders	44
Three
Middlemarch and the Extravagant Domestic Spender
Managing an Epic Life	80
Four
To Those Who Love Them Best
The Erotics of Connoisseurship in Michael Field's Sight and Song	109
Five
Votes for Women and the Tactics of Consumption	136
Afterword
Becoming Elizabeth Dalloway
The Future of Shopping	171
Notes	179
Bibliography	217
Index	231

ILLUSTRATIONS

1.1	Liberty “Arab” Tea Room advertisement	25
1.2	Liberty advertisement	32
1.3	Front cover of Liberty’s Eastern Antiquities Catalogue	39
3.1	“Table of Expenditure”	93
4.1	Aubrey Beardsley cover design	110
4.2	Title page of Sight and Song	118
4.3	Front cover of Sight and Song	120
5.1	“The Shrieking Sister”	143
5.2	“Always Make Room for a Lady”	143
5.3	Selfridge’s advertisement	146
5.4	“Votes for Women” Directory	148
5.5	Derry and Toms advertisement	149
5.6	Pank-A-Squith advertisement	151
5.7	Panko advertisement	153
5.8	The N. W. London Union Shop in Kilburn	167