

Table of Contents

I. In Lieu of a Preface:

Gene Williams Chamamiento, or Thinking about Futures	9
---	---

II. Future Oriented Visions of Higher Education

Sheryl Riechmann Hruska Changing Who We Are And What We Do: A Vision for Higher Education	16
---	----

Hans Peter Kühn Global Problems and their Effects on Research, Teaching, and Learning in Higher Education	31
---	----

Walter L. Balk Professional Education and the Ethics of Survival	43
---	----

Volker Saftien Education for Leisure - A Socio-Aesthetic Response	60
--	----

III. Trans-National Dialogue

Patrick Imbert Progress, Cross-Cultural Relationship and the University	67
--	----

Harvey R. Jahn Global Education for an Interdependent World	75
--	----

Suzanne E. Lindenau Technology and Higher Education: Global Impe- ratives for Cross-Cultural Communication	85
--	----

IV. Critical Thinking and the Curriculum

Hans Peter Kühn

Introductory Remarks on "Critical Thinking" 95

Abelardo Brenes Castro

Teaching Critical Thinking Skills in Costa Rica 101

Paul Lyons

Teaching Critical Thinking 113

Rao V. Kolluru

Perceptual (Creative) Phase of Thinking: A Program for Systematic Development 124

V. High Technology inside the University

Richard F. Ericson

The Impact of Microchip Technologies on Management
Education: Revolutionary Change Ahead? 141

Chih Wu and Yu Wei-ren

Potential Application of Computer-Aided Instruction (CAI) in China 149

VI. Case Studies in Higher Education

Edward Schaffer

Academic Capitalism and the Crisis of American
Higher Education 154

Leonard H. Jordan, Jr. and Paul G. King

Educating from a Perspective: Economic and Social Change in the Periphery 168

Arno Libotton

Practice-Guiding Teaching and Learning Modules
in Teacher Training at University Level 185

Emanuel Hurwitz, Julius Menacker, Ward Weldon Perspectives on Educational Imperialism	194
--	-----

VII. A Summary and a Post-Script

Rolf Homann Visions of Higher Education and Transnational Dialogues	215
---	-----

List of Authors	219
------------------------------	------------