

Table of Contents

Acknowledgements	vii
Illustrations	ix
HELEN TIFFIN
Introduction	xi
LEIGH DALE
Empire's Proxy: Sheep and the Colonial Environment	1
CLAUDIA BRANDENSTEIN
Representations of Landscape and Nature in Anthony Trollope's The West Indies and the Spanish Main and James Anthony Froude's The English in the West Indies	15
MEENAKSHI SHARMA
Polluted River or Goddess and Saviour? The Ganga in the Discourses of Modernity and Hinduism	31
HELEN GILBERT
Ecotourism: A Colonial Legacy?	51
ANDREW MCCANN
Colonial Nature-Inscription: On Haunted Landscapes	71
RUTH BLAIR
"Transported Landscapes": Reflections on Empire and Environment in the Pacific	85

CARRIE DAWSON
The “I” in Beaver: Sympathetic Identification and Self-Representation in Grey Owl’s Pilgrims of the Wild	113
ROBERT DIXON
The Sandline Mercenaries Affair: Postcoloniality, Globalization and the Nation-State	131
ANNA JOHNSTON
Planting the Seeds of Christianity: Ecological Reform in Nineteenth-Century Polynesian London Missionary Society Stations	149
CHRIS TIFFIN
Five Emus to the King of Siam: Acclimatization and Colonialism	165
SUSIE O’BRIEN
“Back to the World”: Reading Ecocriticism in a Postcolonial Context	177
CATHERINE HOWELL
Views from Van Diemen’s Land: Space, Place and the Colonial Settler Subject in John Glover’s Landscapes	201
JO ROBERTSON
Colonial Cordon Sanitaire : Fixing the Boundaries of the Disease Environment	221
GILLIAN WHITLOCK
“The Animals Are Innocent”: Latter-Day Women Travellers in Africa	235
Contributors	247
Index	251