

CONTENTS

Foreword	vii
Life of Descartes	xi

Part One: CARTESIUS

I: The Auspices of the Search for Truth in the Sciences

Chapter 1: The Search for Truth in the Sciences	3
Chapter 2: Faith, Theology, and the Search for Truth in the Sciences	9
Chapter 3: The Augustinian Ideal of Wisdom	26
Chapter 4: The Architectonic of Wisdom	39
Chapter 5: The Auspices of Modernity	49

II: The Quest for Certainty

Chapter 6: The Fact of Inquiry	57
Chapter 7: Cartesius and René Descartes	66
Chapter 8: Dubito : The Neutralization of the Anthropocentric Predicament	73
Chapter 9: Cogito, ergo sum	88
Chapter 10: Cogitatio : The Sovereignty of Reason	101
Chapter 11: Cogitatio : The Criterion of Certainty	108

III: The Quest for the Absolute

Chapter 12: The Hyperbolic Doubt	121
Chapter 13: The Ultimate and the Infinite	132
Chapter 14: The Indefinite Regress	144
Chapter 15: Inquiry and the Quest for the Absolute	155
Chapter 16: The Infinite, the Perfect, and Causa Sui	168
Chapter 17: The Absolute Attained	177
Chapter 18: The Divine Warrant and the Postulate of Inquiry	189

IV: Fundamenta Scientiae Mirabilis

Chapter 19: Reason and Existence	198
Chapter 20: Substance and the Unity of Nature	209
Chapter 21: The Apportionment of Nature: The Intellect, the Inquirer, and the Objects of Inquiry	221
Chapter 22: The Apportionment of Nature: Mind, Man, and Matter	230

Part Two: RENÉ DESCARTES

V: Nature

Chapter 23: The Idea of Nature: Matter and Extension	249
Chapter 24: The Idea of Nature: Spiritual Substances	265
Chapter 25: The Idea of Nature: The Experiential Mythos	272

VI: The Search for Truth in the Sciences

Chapter 26: Inquiry and the Correlation of Symbols	290
Chapter 27: Teleology and Analogy	308
Chapter 28: Error	324
Chapter 29: Method and the Discipline of Inquiry	336
Chapter 30: The Sciences and the Diversification of Existence	346

VII: Nature, Science, and the Images of Nature

Chapter 31: The Image of Physical Nature: The World	360
Chapter 32: The World: Creation and Conservation	375
Chapter 33: The Image of Nature: Man	394
Chapter 34: The Image of Creation	410

Part Three: THE QUEST FOR WISDOM

Foreword	424
Chapter 35: The Postulate of Wisdom	425
Chapter 36: Science: Cartesian Certainties and Cartesian Images	440
Chapter 37: Claim and Doctrine	460
Chapter 38: The Quest for Wisdom	481
List of Works Cited	486
Index	491