

Contents

Introduction	ix
David Jones, Marjorie Mayo and Paul Curno

Part I Community Work Participation and Politics

1	Community participation: past and future S. M. Miller and Martin Rein	3
2	Community participation and social change Hilary Rose and Jalna Hanmer	25
3	Politics, theory and community work Laurence Tasker	46
4	Rehousing in Glasgow: reform through community action Sidney Jacobs	55

Part II Training and the Development of Community Work as a Profession

5	The de-professionalisation of community work D. J. Cox and N. J. Derricourt	75
6	Some difficulties in introducing a community work option into social work training George Goetschius	90
7	In-service community work training: a job-centred approach John Ward	104

Part III Work in Progress/Developments in the Field

- |    |  |     |
|----|--|-----|
| 8  | Grapevine: an experimental project in community sex educationJanet Evanson and Iain Watkinson | 119 |
| 9  | The community worker as stranger: the effects of housing designDavid N. Thomas                | 130 |
| 10 | Settlements as agencies for social changeGraham Richies                                       | 142 |

Part IV Research

- |    |   |     |
|----|---|-----|
| 11 | Research and community workRay Lees  | 153 |
| 12 | Research and the communityJohn Greve | 163 |

Part V Consumer Organisations

- |    |  |     |
|----|--|-----|
| 13 | The Mental Patients' UnionLiz Durkin and Brian Douieb | 177 |
| 14 | Camden old age pensionersBetty Harrison               | 192 |