CONTENTS

Notes on Contributors ................................................................. vii

The Challenges of Quantifying Youth and Age in the Medieval North ................................................................. 1
Shannon Lewis-Simpson

Forever Young: Child Burial in Anglo-Saxon England .......... 17
Christina Lee

Constructions of Early Childhood at the Syncretic
Cemetery of Fjälkinge—a Case Study ..................................... 37
Lotta Mejsholm

Child Burials and Children’s Status in Medieval Norway ........ 57
Berit J. Sellevold

Fosterage and Dependency in Medieval Iceland and its Significance in Gísla saga .................................................... 73
Anna Hansen

The Birth, Childhood and Adolescence of the Early
Icelandic Bishops ............................................................. 87
Bernadine McCreesh

‘Sveinn einn ungr fell í sýraker’: Medieval Icelandic
Children in Vernacular Miracle Stories ............................... 103
Joanna A. Skórzewska

Teenage Angst: The Structures and Boundaries of Adolescence in Twelfth- and Thirteenth-Century Iceland .... 127
Nic Percivall

Awkward Adolescents: Male Maturation in Norse Literature .... 151
Carolyne Larrington
CONTENTS

'Spoiling them Rotten?': Grandmothers and Familial Identity in Twelfth- and Thirteenth-Century Iceland .......... 167

Philadelphia Ricketts

Age Matters in Old English Literature ........................................ 205

Jordi Sánchez-Martí

Becoming 'Old', Ageism and Taking Care of the Elderly in Iceland c. 900–1300 ........................................ 227

Jón Vidar Sigurðsson

Old Age in Viking-Age Britain .................................................. 243

Shannon Lewis-Simpson

The Patriarch: Myth and Reality .................................................. 265

Ármann Jakobsson

Egill Skalla-Grímsson: a Viking Poet as a Child and an Old Man .................................................. 285

Yelena Sesselja Helgadóttir Yershova

Index .................................................................................. 305