Contents

List of Figures and Tables vii
Acknowledgments ix
Preface xi

Introduction 1

1 The Syndication Market in U.S. Television 22
2 Television in the Global Market 37
3 The (Continued) Relevance of Genre 66
4 Managing Television's Cultural Properties 101
5 Discourses of Distribution: Circuit Models of Television 144

Conclusion: Television's Culture World 175

Methodological Appendix 183
Notes 189
References 227
Index 253
About the Authors 259
Figures and Tables

Figures

1.1 Billboards at NATPE Entrance
1.2 Pedestrian “Freeway” Routes Convention Attendees
1.3 Talk Show Host Sally Jesse Raphael Greets Attendees and Poses for Photos
1.4 Assembling for NATPE Seminar
1.5 Billboards and Red Carpet at MIPCOM
1.6 First Floor Schematic of MIPCOM Convention Hall
1.1 Prime Time Schedule: Fall 1947
1.2 Top 20 Syndicated Shows for September 2003 to January 2004 and Their Advertising Revenue
2.1 Structural Components of the Global Television Industry Marketplace
3.1 Brochure Cover for The Bold and the Beautiful
3.2 Brochure Cover for A Country Practice
3.3 Brochure Cover for Los Angeles no Lloran
4.1 Going Rates for U.S. Product in Select Territories, 1998
4.2 Going Rates for U.S. Product in Select Territories, 2003
4.3 Going Rates for U.S. Product in Select Territories, 2005
4.4 Israeli Television Guide, with Actors from The Bold and the Beautiful
4.5 Japanese Television Guide, with Actors from Japanese Series
4.6 Warner Bros. Ad for International Dubbing Group
5.1 The Circuit of Culture
5.2 Discourses of Distribution
5.3 Models of Cultural Globalization

Tables

4.1 Promotional Brochure Features