

Contents

Sander L. Gilman	ix	Foreword
Marcia Klotz	xi	Introduction
	1	PART 1. Identifications of Self and Other
Woodruff D. Smith	3	Colonialism and the Culture of Respectability
Bradley D. Naranch	21	Inventing the Auslandsdeutsche : Emigration, Colonial Fantasy, and German National Identity, 1848–71
Vanessa Agnew	41	The Colonialist Beginnings of Comparative Musicology
	61	PART 2. Orders of Colonial Regulation: Sex and Violence
Sara Lennox	63	Race, Gender, and Sexuality in German Southwest Africa: Hans Grimm's Südafrikanische Novellen
Kristin Kopp	76	Constructing Racial Difference in Colonial Poland
David Simo	97	Colonization and Modernization: The Legal Foundation of the Colonial Enterprise; A Case Study of German Colonization in Cameroon
	113	PART 3. Colonial Racism and Antisemitism
Pascal Grosse	115	What Does German Colonialism Have to Do with National Socialism? A Conceptual Framework
Marcia Klotz	135	The Weimar Republic: A Postcolonial State in a Still-Colonial World
Susannah Heschel	148	Theology as a Vision for Colonialism: From Supersessionism to Dejudaization in German Protestantism

	165	PART 4. Nazi Visions of Africa
Elisa von Joeden-Forgey	167	Race Power in Postcolonial Germany: The German Africa Show and the National Socialist State, 1935–40
Robert Gordon and Dennis Mahoney	189	Marching in Step: German Youth and Colonial Cinema
	203	PART 5. Colonial Legacies: The Racialized Self
Nina Berman	205	Autobiographical Accounts of Kenyan-German Marriages: Reception and Context
Patrice Nganang	227	Autobiographies of Blackness in Germany
	241	Contributors
	243	Index