

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements	ix
Note	xi
Introduction	xiii
Prologue: An Anatomy of Genetic Criticism
1 The Intellectual Foundations of the Genetic School	3
2 The Material Analysis, Classification and Editing of Modern Manuscripts	14
3 Avant-Texte and Published Text	18
4 The Critical Potential	27
5 Questions of Methodology	37
6 Genetic Horizons	43
PART I
Flaubert: The Macro-Structural Elaboration of L'Éducation sentimentale
1 Flaubert, a Programmatic Writer	51
2 Documentation	57
3 Textuality and Narrativity	72
4 Architectural and Narrative Organization	78
5 Avant-Texte and Published Text: The Modernity Debate Revisited	92

PART II

Proust: The Genesis of A la recherche du temps perdu in the Period 1908 to 1911

1 Proust, an Immanent Writer	119
2 The Cahiers Contre Sainte-Beuve : Emergence of Narrative Strands and Thematic Networks (December 1908–Spring 1909)	131
3 The Development of the Cahiers Contre Sainte-Beuve between Summer 1909 and Summer 1911: Emergence of Narrative Cohesion	160
Epilogue: In Defence of Textuality	187
Appendix
Table: Chronology for Proust's Cahiers from the End of 1908 to the Second Typescript (Summer 1911)	196
Bibliography	197
Index	215