

Contents

Preface	xiii
1 ☆ Origins of the Movement American Dilemma • An Awakening Movement	I
2 ☆ The Sit-ins Catching the Mood • A Movement on Trial: The Rise of White Extremism • Coming Together: Students and the Black Community • Impact of the Protests	19
3 ☆ Mass Protest in the Kennedy Years The Presidential Campaign of 1960 • Kennedy in Office: The Politics of Expectation • Freedom Rides • The Albany Movement • James Meredith and “Ole Miss” • Birmingham • Toward a “Second Reconstruction” • The March on Washington	45
4 ☆ The Great Society “Let Us Continue” • Freedom Summer • The Movement and the Party • The Campaign of 1964	86
5 ☆ The Voting Rights Campaign Southern Resistance • The Movement in Selma • “Bloody Sunday” • Marching to Montgomery • The Voting Rights Bill	127
6 ☆ The Ghettos Erupt Black Life in the North • Watts • The Limits of Federal Programs • The Limits of Private Programs • The Nation of Islam • King in Chicago	154
7 ☆ Reformers at the Crossroads The Southern Movement in Crisis • The Broadening Protest: Civil Rights Leaders and Vietnam • Closing Ranks: Black Politics in Lowndes County • Marching toward Black Power • Black Power, White Backlash	186
8 ☆ The Radical Movement Black Cultural Nationalism • The Politics of Black Nationalism • Challenging the “Great Society” • In Search of New Coalitions	222

x ■ Contents

9 ☆ “Law and Order”	262
A Divided Society ■ Year of Reaction ■ The Silenced Minority
 Epilogue: The Shifting Politics of Race	288
Education and the Courts ■ Presidential Leadership from Ford to Reagan ■ The Receding Civil Rights Vision ■ A Record of Change
 Notes	319
 Further Reading	336
 Index	339