

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements

Introduction

PART I - Sociological Perspectives	1
Chapter 1	Sociological Introduction	2
	The Two Sociologies	5
	Sociological Schools of Thought and Ideologies	8
	Concluding Discussion	14
Chapter 2	Education and Social Change	17
	Change in Society	17
	Emergence and Growth of Education	20
	The Changing Concept of Education	23
	Adult and Continuing Education	25
	Conclusion	30
Chapter 3	Interpreting Adult and Continuing Education	31
	Interpreting Social Phenomena	31
	Liberal Adult Education	34
	Radical Adult Education	38
	Underdetermination in Adult Education	40
	Conclusion	41
PART II - A Sociology of a Teaching and Learning Curriculum	43
Chapter 4	The Two Educations
	Classical and Romantic Curricula	45

Contents

	The 'Two Educations'	48
	Andragogy and Pedagogy	50
	Romanticism and the 1960s	52
	Conclusion	55
Chapter 5	Aims, Objectives and Meeting Needs and Demands in Adult Education
	Aims and Objectives	58
	Needs and Demands	63
	Conclusion	72
Chapter 6	The Content of the Curriculum	73
	A Sociological Understanding of the Nature of Knowledge	73
	Curriculum Content as a Selection from Culture	78
	Education from Above	82
	Education of Equals	90
	Conclusion	91
Chapter 7	Teaching Methods and Learning	93
	Methods of Teaching	94
	The Self	99
	The Learning Cycle	102
	Criticisms of the Strategy- Based Position	109
	The Teaching Strategy of Paulo Freire	111
	Conclusion	115
Chapter 8	Examinations and Assessment	117
	Definition and Legitimation of Social Reality	119
	Examinations Reproduce the Hierarchical Relations in Society	121
	Examinations and the Reproduction of Society's Mode of Operation	123
	Education on a Commodity	124
	An Identity Ritual	126
	An Aftermath of Examinations?	128
	Self Assessment	129
	Conclusion	129
PART III -	Adult and Continuing Education in the Context of Society	131
Chapter 9	The Functions of Adult and Continuing Education	133

Contents

Maintenance of the Social System and Reproduction of Existing Social Relations	135
Transmission of Knowledge and the Reproduction of Culture	137
Individual Advancement and Selection	139
Second Chance and Legitimation	141
Leisure Time Pursuit and Institutional Expansion	145
Development and Liberation	147
Conclusion	149

Chapter 10	Alternative Approaches to the Education of Adults	151
	Education of the Affect	152
	Community Education	156
	Distance Education	159
	Conclusion	164

Chapter 11	Adult and Continuing Education and Social Policy	165
	Social Policy and Legislation	166
	Models of Social Policy	168
	Application of Social Policy Models to Adult and Continuing Education	171
	Concluding Discussion	176

PART IV - Adult and Continuing Education in the Organizational Context	179
--	-----

Chapter 12	The Organization of Adult and Continuing Education	181
	The Organization of the Service	183
	Bureaucratic Organization	187
	Centre-Periphery Model of Organization	191
	Dilemmas of Institutionalised Education of Adults	194
	Conclusion	197

Chapter 13	Adult Participants in Education	199
	Access to Adult and Continuing Education	199
	Participation in the Education of Adults	201
	Barriers to Access	211

Contents

	Conclusion	213
Chapter 14	Interaction within the Organization	215
	Interaction on Registration	215
	The Adult Student Role	217
	Classroom Interaction	219
	Group Behaviour	222
	Conclusion	226
Chapter 15	The Educator of Adults
	The Occupation of Educator of Adults	227
	The Occupation within the Organization	233
	Professionalization of the Education of Adults	236
	Conclusion	241
Bibliography		243
Index		261