

Contents

Introduction: Understanding Quality in Teaching Wilfred Carr	1
Part 1 The Philosophical and Social Context of Teaching
1 Teaching and the Idea of a Social Practice Glenn Langford	21
2 Managerialism and Morality: The Corporate and the Republican School Fred Inglis	35
3 Bureaucratic Rationality and the Promise of Democratic Schooling Fazal Rizvi	55
Part 2 Teaching as a Profession
4 Beyond Professionalism Shirley Grundy	79
5 Professional Knowledge and the Beginning Teacher Peter Gilroy	101
6 Practical Professionalism Hugh Sockett	115
7 Accountability and Teacher Professionalism Maurice Kogan	135
Part 3 The Professional Development of Teachers
8 Being Caught in Schoolwork: The Possibilities of Research in Teachers' Work Martin Lawn	147

9	Teachers and Their Research	163
	Michael Golby
10	The Practical Ethic Takes Priority over Methodology	173
	Clem Adelman
11	Teacher Appraisal and the Development of Professional Knowledge	183
	Richard Winter
12	Knowledge, Power and Teacher Appraisal	201
	John Elliott
	Notes on Contributors	220
	Index	223