

Contents

| | |
|--|-----------|
| Notes on contributors | vii |
| Series editors' preface | xi |
| Acknowledgements | xv |
| Foreword | xvii |
| HARRY CLEAVER | |
| | |
| 1 Marxism, Cultural Studies and sport: mapping the field | 1 |
| BEN CARRINGTON AND IAN MCDONALD | |
| | |
| PART I | |
| Marxism, Cultural Studies and sport: the key debates | 13 |
| | |
| 2 Sport without final guarantees: Cultural Studies/Marxism/sport | 15 |
| BEN CARRINGTON | |
| | |
| 3 One-dimensional sport: revolutionary Marxism and the critique of sport | 32 |
| IAN MCDONALD | |
| | |
| PART II | |
| Political economy, commodification and sport | 49 |
| | |
| 4 The urban sport spectacle: towards a critical political economy of sports | 51 |
| ANOUK BÉLANGER | |
| | |
| 5 Between culture and economy: understanding the politics of media sport | 68 |
| GARRY WHANNEL | |

| | | |
|-----------------|--|------------|
| 6 | Marxism, alienation and Coubertin's Olympic project ROB BEAMISH | 88 |
| PART III | | |
| | The sporting poetics of class, race and gender | 107 |
| 7 | Post-Marxism, black Marxism and the politics of sport BRETT ST LOUIS | 109 |
| 8 | Venus and Serena are 'doing it' for themselves: theorizing sporting celebrity, class and Black feminism for the Hip-Hop generation JAYNE O. IFEKWUNIGWE | 130 |
| 9 | Socratic solitude: the Scouser two-as-one GRANT FARRED | 154 |
| PART IV | | |
| | Key concepts, critical theorists | 179 |
| 10 | Michel Foucault and the critique of sport TOBY MILLER | 181 |
| 11 | Re-appropriating Gramsci: Marxism, hegemony and sport ALAN BAIRNER | 195 |
| 12 | Sport, culture and late capitalism DAVID L. ANDREWS | 213 |
| | Afterword MICHAEL BÉRUBÉ | 232 |
| | Index | 242 |