

Contents

Acknowledgments	page ix
1 The creative process	1
Imagination and intuition	4
Creative moments	10
The poet's inspiration	18
The scientist's insight	21
2 'Convergent' and 'divergent' thinking, or how intelligent is a creative and how creative is an intelligent person?	25
Origins of intelligence tests	26
Mechanics of intelligence tests	27
Theory of the intellect	31
' Intelligence ' and ' creativity '	36
Do ' creativity tests ' measure creativity?	39
3 What are creative people like?	43
Creative men	44
Young creatives	56
Madness and genius	61
4 Nurturing creativity	67
Home background	67
Pre-school education	77
Developing productive thinking	82
	vii

CONTENTS

5	The creative child at school	92
	Is education biased against creativity?	92
	Teachers' and pupils' attitudes	94
	Achievements	96
	A propitious school climate	97
	Teaching for creativity	102
	Specialization in arts or science	109
6	Retrospect	113
	Appendix: Some divergent thinking tests	116
	Bibliography	123
	Further reading list	131