

Contents

Figures	ix
Tables	xi
Preface	xiii
1 Participatory Learning: Issues for Research and Practice DONNA BERTHELSEN	1
2 International Perspectives on Participatory Learning: Young Children's Perspectives across Rich and Poor Countries HELEN PENN	12
3 The Guiding Principles of Participation: Infant, Toddler Groups and the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child BERENICE NYLAND	26
4 'Doing the Right Thing': A Moral Concern from the Perspectives of Young Preschool Children EVA JOHANSSON	44
5 The Desirable Toddler in Preschool: Values Communicated in Teacher and Child Interactions ANETTE EMILSON AND EVA JOHANSSON	61
6 Friendships and Participation among Young Children in a Norwegian Kindergarten ANNE GREVE	78

7	Beliefs About Toddler's Learning in Child Care Programs in Australia	93
	JO BROWNLEE AND DONNA BERTHELSEN
8	In Support of a Relationship-Based Approach to Practice with Infants and Toddlers in the United States	109
	MARY MCMULLEN AND SUSAN DIXON
9	Looking and Listening for Participatory Practice in an English Day Nursery	129
	PAULETTE LUFF
10	Dialogue, Listening and Discernment in Professional Practice with Parents and their Children in an Infant Program: A Canadian Perspective	145
	ENID ELLIOT
11	"If You Think They Can Do It—Then They Can": Two-Year-Olds in Aotearoa New Zealand Kindergartens and Changing Professional Perspectives	164
	JUDITH DUNCAN
12	Fairness in Participation in Preschool	185
	ARTIN GÖNCÜ, CATHERINE MAIN AND BARBARA ABEL
13	Contexts, Pedagogy and Participatory Learning: A Way Forward	203
	JO BROWNLEE
	Contributors	209
	Author Index	213
	Subject Index	215

Figures

5.1	Values of caring, democracy and discipline.	65
8.1	Relationship as an intersection of mindful, reflective, and respectful practices.	111
8.2	The primary spheres of interaction connected to the infant/toddler and family.	114
8.3	The secondary spheres of influence in the infant/toddler and family's life, those connected to one of the primary spheres of influence, the caregiver.	115
8.4	The universe of potential relationships surrounding the infant/toddler and family.	116
11.1	Two years old and feet don't touch the floor.	172
11.2	Peg board viewed from a two-year-old's height.	173
11.3	Play dough table from a two-year-old's height.	174
11.4	Puzzle tables.	174
11.5	Play dough table.	175
13.1	Contexts, pedagogy, and participatory learning.	204

Tables

7.1	Description of Child Care Teachers	98
7.2	Beliefs about Toddlers' learning	100