

Contents

Acknowledgments 11

Introduction Sources of Compromise 15

Chapter 1 Compromising Criticism 31

“Renovate This Poet’s Tomb!” 31

From Positivism to Intertextuality 32

A Disposition for Compromise in the Renaissance 46

Chapter 2 Radical Neoclassicism in Orlando Innamorato 55

At the Source: “Limpida e Larga Vena” or

“Torbidi Torrenti”? 55

The Education of a Poet in Renaissance Ferrara 59

Herodotus: Accept This Greek 65

The Phantom of Vergil’s Narrative 77

Chapter 3 Narrative Choices in Orlando Furioso 91

Ariosto’s Narrative Opportunism 91

Interlaced Classics 96

Choosing Ovid 109

Chapter 4 The Misshapen Beast: The Furioso’s Serpentine Narrative 123

Tasso: Dante: Ariosto 123

Contents

Similes of the Snake and Metaphors of Narrative Poiesis 129
Ariosto: Quel Grandissimo Poeta: Un Dracone 139

Chapter 5 Tasso's Allegory of the Source in Gerusalemme Liberata 142

Sources and the Drought 142

Poetic Allegories 152

Revising Humanistic Allegory in the Conquistata 164

Conclusion Ivy: Column: Romance: Epic 170

Notes 174

Bibliography 209

Index 239