

CONTENTS

	PREFACE	ix
	SUBJECT FIELD REFERENCE GUIDE	xi
1	the terminology of media	2
MEDIA AND THE SYSTEMATIC APPROACH TO TEACHING AND LEARNING	systematic instructional planning: a model	4
1
2	individualization and media	18
MEDIA AND INDIVIDUALIZED LEARNING	media and instructional management systems	22
17	comprehensive school media centers	30
	classroom learning centers	34
3	making a community resources inventory	40
THE COMMUNITY AS A LEARNING CENTER	conducting field trips	43
39	going where the action is	46
	people as instructional resources	53
	students conduct community studies	56
	alternative schools and the community	57
	generating community resource materials	58
4	media uses in teaching and learning	62
CHOOSING, USING, AND PRODUCING MEDIA	media utilization procedures	67
61	selecting media for purchase	74
	useful media selection guides	76
	local media production	78
	levels of productive effort	80

5	bulletin boards and teaching displays	84
	chalkboards	87
	cloth boards	91
	art fundamentals: layout, sketching, lettering, color	94
DISPLAYING AND SOME FUNDAMENTALS OF VISUAL COMMUNICATION
83
6	graphs	105
	charts and diagrams	109
	cartoons	113
	posters	114
	maps and globes	116
	graphics and visual literacy	125
GRAPHIC MATERIALS
103
7	creating transparencies	128
	commercially produced transparencies	145
	teaching with transparencies	146
TRANSPARENCIES FOR OVERHEAD PROJECTION
127
8	getting acquainted with photography	150
	informal photography	152
	structured photography	154
	presentation techniques	163
	photographic copies and close-ups	165
	organizing your slide collection	167
PHOTOGRAPHY
149
9	still pictures and visual literacy	170
	types of still pictures	176
	still pictures in multi-media kits	178
	research on still pictures	178
	flat pictures	180
	2- by 2-inch slides	188
	other projection media	189
	35mm filmstrips	190
STILL PICTURES
169
10	ready-made audio materials	198
	student listening skills	201
	teaching with audio materials	203
	recording as learning experience	210
	learning by editing tapes	212
	recording discussions	214
AUDIO MATERIALS
197

	recording interviews	215
	educational radio: the hidden medium	216
	simulated radio broadcasts	217
	telelecturing, telewriting, and telephone teaching	218
	tape exchanges	219
	organizing your tape collection	220
	developing an audio performance test	221
11	special values of motion pictures	224
MOTION PICTURES:	films and video forms	227
FILMS AND VIDEO	locating, choosing, and obtaining motion pictures	228
223	types of motion-picture action	232
	research about motion-picture utilization	234
	uses of motion pictures in teaching	235
	motion pictures as creative art	241
	entertainment films in schools and colleges	244
12	out-of-school television viewing	248
TELEVISION	in-school teaching with television	252
247	alternative routes for television transmission	254
	using portable video tape equipment	257
	image magnification with television	263
	simple television production techniques	264
	sources of information about television	267
13	real things in the classroom	270
REAL THINGS.	modified real things	276
MODELS. AND DEMONSTRATIONS	creating reproductions of reality	279
269	collections of real things	283
	demonstrations	286
14	games and simulations	292
GAMES. SIMULATIONS.	informal dramatizations	304
AND INFORMAL	puppets and puppet theatres	307
DRAMATIZATIONS
291

15	using free and inexpensive materials	312
FREE AND	get acquainted with your community	312
INEXPENSIVE MATERIALS	evaluating sponsored materials	313
311	professional associations	315
	trade and industry associations	318
	foreign government agencies	320
	travel-related organizations	321
	local ethnic cultural groups	321
	United States government sources	322
	how to order United States government publications	327
	state sources of information	327
	further sources of information	328
16	textbooks	332
PRINT, MULTIMEDIA,	media packages	338
AND MICROFORMS	programmed media products	339
331	supplementary books	340
	encyclopedias	341
	newspapers and magazines	343
	educational comics	344
	microforms	346
	ERIC: an information-sharing system	349
	information sources	350
17	media and educational trends	354
. . . AND IN THE FUTURE?	the increasing potential of telecommunications	358
353	extending opportunities to learn	362
	trends in equipment for instruction	364
	teachers of tomorrow: opportunities	368
REFERENCE	1. operating audiovisual equipment	371
SECTIONS	2. duplicating processes	415
371	3. photographic equipment and techniques	429
	4. physical facilities	443
	5. classified directory of sources	455
	6. references: print and audiovisual	477
	INDEX	489